Japs Get Rangoon, Bandung; Aussies Rally to Try Drive

Associated Press
While a new tentacle of the Japanese offensive circled closer to Australia along the coral sea, with two footholds gained in easternmost New Guinea and a third threatened, the Australian war cabinet struggled today with the problem of delivering a counter-stroke.
(See Story Page 2).

Japan appeared to have reached a cross-roads in her far-spread operations—whether to attempt a mop-up of Burma for a drive into India or to tackle the Australian continent.

Claims that the Netherlands East Indies had been totally conquered were fiercely challenged by the Netherlands government.

But at New Delhi the British announced today their forces were quitting Rangoon, capital of Burma. The official statement said: "Reports from Burma indicate that March 7 it was decided to withdraw our forces from Rangoon after carrying out essential demolitions."

Earlier Japanese headquarters at Tokyo had claimed the fall of Rangoon. The communique said Japanese army forces completed occupation of the important port at 10 a.m., Sunday after destroying the main defence forces in the neighborhood of the capital. The announcement also claimed Pegu, 40 miles north of Rangoon, was captured Saturday afternoon.

"With the fall of Rangoon," Imperial headquarters said, "the main objective of Japanese operations on the Burma front has been attained."

Old Burma Road Already Useless

Rangoon was the port of entry for war material and other supplies transported through Burma and into China over the Burma road for the forces of Gen. Chiang Kai-shek. The Japanese advance into Burma from Thailand already had destroyed the usefulness of this supply line for the Chinese before Japanese land forces even were threatening the capture of Rangoon itself.

The end of the life line already had been anticipated some weeks ago in the plans of the United Nations and Gen. Chiang made a special trip to India in which arrangements for alternative supply routes through India to China were made.

Reports to London indicated the fight on the Burma front still centred on the Pegu district, 40 miles north of Rangoon, where British tanks shouldered the burden of the defensive stand ordered by Lt. Gen. Sir Harold Alexander.

New British Chief Leads in Burma

It was announced in New Delhi today that Gen. Alexander had succeeded to the Burma command in a March 5 displacement of Lt. Gen. T. J. Hutton as commanding general officer.

FIRST PICTURE SHOWS JAP BOMB DAMAGE IN AUSTRALIA—Radioed from Australia to London, this is the first picture showing damage inflicted by Japanese bombs on Australian soil. Above, a bridge has been bombed out at Darwin where several attacks have been centred.

Final Bulletins

Sink 2 Jap Ships Disable 4 Others

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. Navy announced this afternoon that U.S. submarines in the western Pacific had sunk a Japanese destroyer and naval tanker, and put out of action an aircraft carrier and three cruisers.
The submarine actions covered the week ended March 6. They raised to 18 the total of Japanese vessels sunk by United States submarines and to 138 for the total of all types of enemy ships sunk by the army and navy in the western Pacific.

To End Blackouts?

LONDON (CP)—The Daily Express today linked its editorial demands for an offensive spirit with a suggestion that the blackout be lifted from the streets of Britain's cities.
The Evening Standard also asked that the blackout be lifted, on the grounds that "every hour of light will speed up production in this country."

Burmese Free to Act

BOMBAY (CP)—Sir Reginald Hugh Dorman-Smith, governor at Burma, gave Burmese officials freedom today to act on their own initiative without consulting higher authority. "Act," he said in a broadcast, "provided our decision is one calculated to embarrass the enemy and contribute to our war effort."

280,000,000 Bushels At 90-Cent Price

OTTAWA (CP)—The initial wheat price of 90 cents a bushel, basis No. 1 northern at Fort Williams, will be payable on a total of 280,000,000 bushels in the crop year 1942-43. Trade Minister MacKinnon announced in the House of Commons this afternoon.

20 Parisians Slain

VICHY (AP)—The execution of 20 hostages in Paris in reprisal for the slaying of a German sentinal March 1 was announced today.

Arsonist Hunted

VANCOUVER (CP)—City police and fire department officials today are investigating an attempt to set fire to a Japanese-owned garage and truck. A quantity of cord, soaked in some inflammable liquid, was found Sunday night burning in the garage owned by H. Sakamoto. A passer-by put the flames out.

Lack of Jurymen Delays Assizes

Spring session of the Assize Court in Victoria was delayed a full hour today while Sheriff Duncan MacBride, on orders from Mr. Justice A. M. Manson, went out to look for talesmen.
"Take a policeman with you and sweep them up off the street if necessary," Mr. Justice Manson instructed the sheriff.
Sheriff MacBride returned one hour later with his panel of talesmen complete and the Assizes were opened shortly after 12 noon.

The circumstances arose when Crown Counsel W. Moresby, K.C., refused to prosecute the first case, a charge of perjury, because, he said, Defence Counsel Stuart Henderson might appeal a possible adverse verdict on the ground that the full panel of 48 talesmen from which to select a jury were not present.

Forty-eight talesmen were summoned but 20 were excused on grounds of sickness, old age and engagement in vital war work.
Sheriff MacBride announced he had six or seven additional possible jurymen available but could not fill the complete panel of 48. When Prosecutor Moresby refused to proceed, Mr. Justice Manson ordered the round-up of citizens and adjourned the court until they were found.

Mr. McLarty tabled an order-in-council passed under the Plebiscite Act.

In the plebiscite the government will seek release from its pledges against conscription for service overseas.

The date was decided finally at a cabinet meeting about noon today.

Japanese Hand Over Cars, Radios on Mainland

VANCOUVER (CP)—The Pacific war reached out today to deprive Japanese residents of the lower mainland of British Columbia of luxuries they had come to take for granted in their western way of life.

Government regulations prohibiting ownership of automobiles, radios, cameras, guns and explosives by Japanese in the coastal defence zone came into effect regionally, and Japanese, whether Canadian-born or nationals, gave up these belongings to authorities in compliance with the order.

JAPS LINE UP

Scores of trucks and automobiles, and even motorcycles, were turned over to R.C.M.P. and a representative of the custodian of enemy alien property at Hastings Park racetrack. At the R.C.M.P. barracks, other Japanese lined up to hand over their radios, cameras, guns, ammunition and explosives.

New shiny trucks and automobiles recently purchased, and old cars with bent fenders, drove up to the Hastings Park track. While officials quickly took down the details, a sign painter painted a white number on each windshield.

The owner was handed a copy of the registration papers—all he will have to show ownership until after the war. Then he was told to drive across the soggy race track infield to where the cars were being parked temporarily until they can be stored.

BICYCLES AS SUBSTITUTES

One Japanese brought a bicycle in the back of his truck—to ride home on. Scores of white men hoping for a last-minute bargain deal with some Japanese car or truck owner were present, but no sales were reported and the legality of such transactions was questioned.

Many Japanese had sold their cars and other possessions liable to seizure during the past few weeks. Others had been reported making private deals whereby they turned over their cars to whites with the agreement that the vehicle be delivered to them when they are later settled outside the defence zone.

R.C.M.P. expected possibly 1,500 cars would be taken into custody here from all lower mainland have been before the cabinet—May 4, May 11 and May 18—but there had been no speculation on a date as early as that announced by the minister.

Cost of the plebiscite has been estimated officially at $1,500,000 if all plebiscite workers have to be paid. However, Prime Minister Mackenzie King has urged that as much voluntary assistance as possible be provided so the cost may be reduced materially.

Twenty-eight days before voting day, enumeration to compile voters' lists will begin. There will be only one enumerator in each polling sub-division, instead of two representing different candidates as in a general election.

points. Japanese-owned cars on Vancouver Island will be taken over later at an island collection centre.

R.C.M.P. said present plans call only for the storing of the Japanese property. However, it was thought possible a disposal committee might be set up to sell the Japanese-owned cars, radios, cameras and other seized property, as was done in the case of Japanese-owned fishing boats which were immobilized at the start of the Pacific war.

Body Found in Creek

VANCOUVER (CP)—A body bearing papers giving the name of Charles Edward McCaw, Vancouver, was taken from False Creek today. Police have no report of McCaw as missing.

POWERFUL VLADIVOSTOK A 'LOADED PISTOL' AT JAPAN HEAD—One of the world's most powerfully-fortified cities is Vladivostok, owned by the Russians, and in a strategic position to launch attacks on Japan. The Russians have converted it into a "loaded pistol pointing at Japan's head," ready to fire when the Russians are ready. Hidden gun emplacements, secret airfields, minefields in the harbor make it almost impregnable to attack, while its position and facilities make it ideal for the launching of any attack on Japan by sea or air.

Berlin Admits 1,500,000 Lost

Nazi Division West of Moscow Wiped Out in Russian Drive

Associated Press
The Red army has struck the enemy a powerful blow on the Kursk-Kharkov front southeast of Moscow, where a number of villages have been recaptured, the Moscow radio announced today.

The Russians said they broke fierce resistance in the area, where Berlin had conceded earlier that the Germans were engaged in heavy "defensive battles" in the south.

Pending materialization of rival war plans for spring, the conflict in eastern Europe remained generally today an offensive for the Russians and a defensive for the Germans, by their own admission, but in western Europe there was a renaissance of German bombing as if to overtake the R.A.F.

In Africa, the war marked time once more with no fresh word of last week's Free French sortie which smashed three fortified positions at Fezzan Oasis 500 miles south of Tripoli, the Libyan capital. From the main front, in eastern Libya, the British and the Axis reported patrol clashes, each side claiming success.

As for the Mediterranean, the Germans reported continued day and night bombing of Malta, British fortress island off Italy, and the Italians admitted new British attacks on Axis-held islands in the Aegean Sea between Greece and Turkey.

Russians Recapture City of Sychevka

Russian soldiers fighting unceasingly in the snow to weaken the expected German spring drive, captured the city of Sychevka, driving a wedge midway between the Nazi strongholds of Rzhev and Vyazma on the central front.

Dispatches from the wintry battlefield told of the sweep of the Red army into the city 125 miles due west of Moscow Sunday after a two-day battle in which it was stated virtually all of the 15,000 men of the German 4th Division were wiped out.

Sychevka is on the 70-mile north-south rail line connecting Rzhev and Vyazma.

Believed Able To Fight On

"A fair number of naval personnel have escaped. They want someone to rally them. I am sure we can carry on the fight."

"There are about eight Japanese divisions (from 120,000 to 160,000 men) in Java—many more than we had."

He added that the Australians "must try to get what we did not have—materials and fresh support."

"The best plan seems to be to try and cripple the enemy's sea forces and transport if it comes a long way from its bases," Van Mook said. "There should be an end to the retreating."

The whole party, which flew with Van Mook to Adelaide, left their wives and families behind.

Dutch Deny General Surrender

Aneta quoted an authoritative Netherlands source as saying: "We Dutchmen are never hopeless. As long as there's life there's hope. We will defend the Indies until the death."

At Adelaide, Lieutenant-Governor Van Mook said:

"Our people are battling on with the resources they have left," he added.

"We are here to carry on the fight and not to sit and mope," he said.

"We are here to collect all the forces we can get together to continue the struggle," he declared.

AUSTRALIA PLANS SCORCHED EARTH

CANBERRA (AP) — Drastic war powers authorizing the government to apply a scorched earth policy in any part of Australia endangered by the enemy were provided in new national security regulations issued early Tuesday.

The government is empowered to order the civil evacuation of any area threatened by invasion and in case property and livestock can not be removed their destruction may be ordered.

The regulations also provide for demolition of buildings, public works, airports, railways, mines and reservoirs in such emergencies.

Services will be held at Mill Bay United Church on Wednesday at 1:30, to be followed by cremation. No flowers, by request.

Army Pay for All

Every Australian Liable for Draft

SYDNEY (CP) — Australia, threatened with imminent Japanese invasion, is prepared to require any citizen to do any job for which the government considers him—or her—suitable in a total mobilization of her greatly increased economic power but comparatively meagre manpower.

Already every man and woman up to the age of 65 has been ordered to register, and any attempt to bargain for workers' services has been blocked effectively by pegging wages.

In addition, all men between the ages of 18 and 60 are subject to call for service in labor battalions. There they will be under military control, will receive military pay, and will be sent wherever they are needed for work on strategic projects.

The national manpower register will be the only channel through which either private industrial or government agencies will be able to engage workers. The government will have the final word on whether a man should go into the home army, into government work or private industry.

Some 200,000 Australians—of a total population of 7,000,000—now are estimated to be engaged directly or indirectly in war production.

Minimum base pay in the major industries in Australia's metropolitan areas—where many nonessential industries already have been closed to make the workers available for munitions and other vital plants—is $17.40 a week.

The average soldiers' pay, which will be the standard for the labor battalions, is $1.60 a day, of which 20 cents is deferred for payment after the war.

Service abroad in the armed forces remains voluntary. But men liable to militia duty probably will be given their choice of going into the army or joining the labor corps.

In the face of a constant and increasing call for sacrifices, the Australian people are responding readily. The war cabinet already has approved in principle the ban of all public holidays until June 30, with the exception of Good Friday and Easter Sunday.

This move first was introduced last Christmas, and it is felt it must be continued while the need for munitions and other war materials continues to be so urgent. Under the ban the workers will lose five holidays—Labor Day, also called "Eight-Hour" Day; Easter Monday, Easter Tuesday, Anzac Day, and the King's Birthday.

Recaptured

BARRIE, Ont. (CP) — Joseph Watson, 24, was recaptured south of Camp Borden early today, 48 hours after he had escaped a police guard by leaping through the washroom window of a speeding train.

Watson was caught in a look-out tower near the intersection of Utopia, Ont. Provincial police constables surrounded the tower while others with guns drawn climbed the structure, where Watson surrendered without resistance.

More Japanese On New Guinea Menace Australia

MELBOURNE (CP) — Strong Japanese landing forces were engaged today in consolidating two footholds which they won on the southeast coast of New Guinea, Sunday in lightning thrusts covered by the big guns of warships.

The landings — At Salamaua and Lae, the capital of New Guinea—formed another link in the chain of potential invasion bases threatening Australia, and the Commonwealth cabinet was summoned to an emergency session to decide on measures to meet the new danger.

New defence regulations gave the Commonwealth military authorities power to carry out complete destruction of roads, railroads, canals, waterworks, air-dromes, docks and wharves wherever necessary for Australia's defence.

Ten heavy Japanese bombers attacked Port Moresby, only 150 miles from Salamaua, at noon Monday, the Australian Air Ministry announced at Canberra. Port Moresby is only 300 miles from the Australian mainland.

Bombs caused some damage, but there were no casualties. Reports from Sydney said 400 men and 1,820 women and children reached safety in Australia and New Guinea. All of the men are elderly or unfit for military service.

BIG RAIDS COMING?

The Sydney Morning Herald predicted the next move of the Japanese would be an all-out air assault on Port Moresby, which can be reached in less than an hour by planes based at Salamaua. Port Moresby already has been bombed several times from outlying Japanese bases.

An Air Ministry communique, announcing the landings, said Australian planes had struck back at the invasion armada before the Japanese had completed their operations, and had scored direct hits on ships.

Salamaua, where the first landing was effected early Sunday morning, is about 400 miles airline northeast of Cape York, Australia. Lae is about 35 miles north of Salamaua.

The Japanese earlier had won footholds on the half-Netherlands, half-Portuguese island of Timor, which is west of New Guinea and about 400 miles from Port Darwin, Australia. They also have bases on New Britain Island, roughly 200 miles east of Salamaua.

Observers expressed belief the Japanese would find the going difficult if they tried to advance overland from Salamaua to Port Moresby, for they would have to cross a 5,000-foot range of mountains covered with thick tropical vegetation.

They declared, however, that Salamaua is of great strategic importance to the Japanese, for they now have command of the narrow strait between New Guinea and New Britain—the natural gateway for a sea-borne assault on the Australian east coast.

EQUIPMENT DESTROYED

Unofficial advice said both Salamaua and Lae had been abandoned by Australian ground forces before the Japanese landed and that all important installations there had been destroyed in pursuance of a scorched earth policy.

The landing operations at Salamaua were started, the air ministry said, under cover of a force of cruisers and destroyers. "The size of the force of Salamaua is unknown, but clearly there were considerable landings," the communique declared.

Another invasion fleet was reported to have appeared off Lae about 9 a.m. Sunday and to have shelled the town before putting troops ashore. It also was air bombed.

Australian naval force at Salamaua—said to have included at least four cruisers—were met by intense anti-aircraft fire and Japanese planes also rose to intercept them, but all returned safely to base, the air ministry said.

New Sea Monster

An addition to British Columbia's collection of sea serpents has been reported by Percy Elsey, Oyster River, hotelman. Oyster River is on upper Vancouver Island.

Elsey reports the creature was seen off Oyster River Friday and that his helper, Joe Parkin, fired at it with a rifle and wounded it. "Immediately the middle of the creature's body came up out of the sea like a huge hump," Mr. Elsey reported. "Joe figures his body was five feet in diameter and the belly was orange-colored. He did not see the head but the tail came out of the water and the flukes were each about six feet long."

Jap Gen. Homma Commits Suicide

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States war department announced today that the general who led the Japanese army which overran Malaya, Gen. Tomoyuki Yamashita, had been transferred to command of the invaders in the Philippines.

Gen. Yamashita succeeds Lt. Gen. Masaharu Homma, who is reported to have committed suicide because of chagrin over his failure to destroy Gen. Douglas MacArthur's outnumbered defending force.

The shift of commanders was reported in a communique which said that for the past 24 hours, fighting had ceased altogether on the Bataan Peninsula front.

FIGHT ON MINDANAO

Some 600 miles to the south, however, brisk skirmishes were reported in the vicinity of Digos, on Davao Gulf, on the southern Philippine island of Mindanao.

The nature of developments of Mindanao, where the Japanese have extended their occupation from the area around the city of Davao to the city of Zamboanga, was not disclosed.

Gen. Yamashita, the new commander-in-chief, has established field headquarters at San Fernando, in Pamanga province some 40 miles from the Bataan front lines.

Whether the shift portended a renewal of full-scale attempt to crush Gen. MacArthur's little army was said by a War Department spokesman to be a matter of speculation.

HARA-KIRI

The reports concerning Lt. Gen. Homma, said he committed hara-kiri last month. While the reports lacked complete verification, it was said the funeral rites were held Feb. 26 in Manila, with personal representatives of Emperor Hirohito in attendance, after which Homma's ashes were flown to Japan.

Ironically, the reports were that the suicide and funeral rites occurred in the Manila Hotel suite occupied by Gen. MacArthur prior to the evacuation of Manila.

Homma, commander of the Japanese 14th Army and commander-in-chief of all enemy forces in the occupied Philippines, was known as a fully Europeanized Japanese who learned to speak English fluently during long service in London and India.

Born 54 years ago, he was an observer with the British forces in France during the first Great War, was a Japanese resident officer in India in 1925, served as military attaché in London in 1930, and again was in London in 1937 for the coronation of King George VI as a member of the suite of Prince Chichibu, the Emperor's brother.

Britain decorated him with the Military Cross.

When B.C. newspapermen boarded the Helan Maru at William Head in 1937 to meet the Japanese royal party en route to the coronation of King George and Queen Elizabeth, they were met by then a Major-General Homma and personal aide to Prince Chichibu. Gen. Homma was much bigger than the average Japanese, being close to six feet tall and weighing about 200 pounds.

Gen. Homma informed the newspapermen he was intermediary between the Prince and Princess and the press. He spoke perfect English without the slightest trace of an accent. He had a low well-modulated voice and pleasing manner and when he first spoke to the newspapermen, told them it was against Japanese custom to interview royalty and he hoped they would understand and govern themselves accordingly.

He consented, however, to the Prince and Princess being photographed. When Chichibu and his consort came on deck, camera-men asked them to "look pleasant and smile please." They seemed to enjoy the occasion and met every request. No attempt was made to interview the visitors in compliance with the request of Gen. Homma.

Gen. Homma told the press of the high esteem in which the late Randolph Bruce, Canadian minister to Japan, was held by the Japanese. He told how Mr. Bruce came from Tokyo to Yokohama to bid the royal party goodbye and asked that the press let the Canadian people know of Mr. Bruce's popularity.

He said he would return with the royal party after the coronation, but events in the Far East hastened his return ahead of the official party and he crossed from London to New York and then to San Francisco to board a fast liner to Japan.

EDMONTON (CP) — Dr. E. P. Scarlett of Calgary, delivering the convocation address to 47 University of Alberta graduates at a special ceremony here Saturday night, told the class to "go out and fight . . . in your mission you do not travel alone—the whole army of medical science is with you."

Dr. Scarlett, speaking specifically to those who are entering Canada's armed services, said "you are no ordinary soldiers—you are physicians and it is your part to give suffering mankind confidence, to supplement by some mystical spiritual reinforcement which their bodies claim from science, that invincible courage which is the most miraculous tribute of human nature . . .

"Let sober sense and fidelity and charity be the coin of your realm and the hosts of a warring world shall not prevail against you."

Mexico Governor Shot and Killed

TOLUCA, Mexico, (AP) — Governor Alfredo Zarate Albarra, governor of the state of Mexico, died Sunday from bullet wounds inflicted last Thursday night at a party in this state capital.

The governor's private secretary, Carlos Mercedo, Friday signed an official bulletin of the state government stating Governor Zarate had been wounded during a quarrel and after "considerable drinking" by state legislator Fernando Ortiz Rubio, 30-year-old son of Pascual Ortiz Rubio, former President of Mexico.

Ortiz Rubio, however, denied having taken part in the shooting, and federal police said paraffin tests on his hands indicated he had not fired a gun.

He is being held in custody.

Stalin Did Not Say It

SATURDAY'S ISSUE OF THE TIMES OF

London included a leading editorial demanding immediate British action to bring about an agreement with Russia and the United States which would allow all possible Soviet anxiety concerning post-war plans as well as the prosecution of the war itself. The well-known metropolitan daily referred to hints dropped by some commentators that Premier Stalin was not satisfied with the external assistance his country was getting. "Whether or not Stalin intended to express impatience," the editorial observed, "there is beyond a doubt a growing inclination among Soviet leaders to feel that Russia has been called upon, with indirect and insufficient help from her Allies, to bear the main brunt of Hitler's assault." The Times adds the further comment that "anything calculated to foster the belief, however ill-founded, that the Allied countries are indifferent to Russian requirements and Russian aims would be disastrous."

Earlier and condensed reports of Premier Stalin's recent Order of the Day to the Red Army suggested he said in effect that Russia had no allies fighting with her and that he predicted the Red banner would float wherever it had floated before. But the unabridged text of the Soviet leader's pronouncement proves conclusively that he made no such statements—the latter, of course, implying that he had designs on the independence of Poland. The unabridged text of Mr. Stalin's Order, however, contains a special reference to Russia's basic policy while fighting the invader, as well as her views on the treatment of the enemy after the war. Here is part of it:

"It would be ridiculous to identify Hitler's clique with the German people and the German State. History shows that Hitler's clique and go, whereas the German people and the German State remain. Lastly, the strength of the Red Army lies in the fact that it does not and cannot entertain racial hatred for other people, that it has been brought up in a spirit of equality of all peoples and nations, in a spirit of respect for rights of other peoples. The Germans' racial theory and the practice of racial hatred brought about a situation where all freedom-loving people became enemies of Fascist Germany. . . . Also, one should not forget that in our country any manifestation of racial hatred is punished by law."

It was obviously the foregoing reference to the dividing line between the Nazi oligarchy and the German people—as mentioned in these columns last week—which prompted Rt. Hon. Anthony Eden to say in the House of Commons that the Soviet ruler's distinction is "not inconsistent" with Great Britain's attitude toward Germany. In other words, the British Foreign Secretary has reminded all and sundry that Germany must not be allowed to rearm again and resume her struggle for world domination—she "must not become a source of embarrassment to her neighbors and the world by suffering economic collapse"; but it is clear that "neither purpose is obtainable as long as the present regime is continued in Germany."

Irrespective of what interpretation was put on the condensed reports of Mr. Stalin's Order of the Day—much of it evidently erroneously—the London Times would seem to echo the sentiments of the great majority of the peoples of the United Nations. It has suited Hitler's plans to devote much propaganda to spread the belief that a Russia victorious over the Nazi Wehrmacht would be the signal for the complete Bolshevization of Europe. But it is not necessary at this stage to waste words by contrasting the rival philosophies of Berlin and Moscow. However, on the Soviet Union's view of the world after the conflict, Sir Stafford Cripps, in one of his specific answers to questions put to him by Life Magazine, has this to say:

"Broadly speaking, I think that the Russian conception of the post-war world can be summed up by saying that they envisage a world in which peace is supervised by a strong United States, U.S.S.R., and Great Britain. They are very realistic as to the future, and do not think that any mere liberal idealism will serve to keep the peace in a world where the bitterness of war will take many years to be blown and where disarmament on anything like a total scale will not be possible."

The sentiments expressed in the Lord Privy Seal's view of the Soviet concept obviously adds point to the London Times editorial argument as it concerns at least three members of the United Nations. While there is no mention of China, it would surely follow that she, as the nation which has been battling the totalitarian philosophy for nearly five years, has not been overlooked either by Sir Stafford or the great London daily to which we have referred.

It used to be "tramp, tramp, tramp the boys are marching." Now it is stamp, stamp, stamp, to keep them flying. Buy all you can!

Latest report shows chewing gum costs the people of the U.S. $200,000,000 a year. A lot of money to stick under chairs and tables.

Party's Survival

PRESIDENT MARTIN OF THE Hamilton Conservative Association, who is also treasurer of the provincial association, has been making a speech by way of a post-mortem on the failure of his party in the recent federal by-elections in Ontario. "The Liberals," he says, "seem to get a little closer to the average man than we do. The Conservative platform is outmoded and the party to survive must appeal to the new thought of the youngest generation or it will disappear just as the Liberal party did in Britain."

In Britain the Liberal party was almost completely absorbed by the Conservatives; the Labor party became the official opposition, attracting to it the liberal-minded persons as well as labor. In Canada the constituents of the parties are pretty well mixed up. There are liberal-minded Conservatives, more liberal in their views than some Liberals. Then there are Tory-minded Liberals who rival the toriest of Tories. Sir Robert Borden in his Memoirs dealing with his experience in the 1917 Union government wrote: "In the new cabinet the most trusted Tories of the old type were two men who had always called themselves Liberals, and who had been prominent members of the Liberal party. I, who had been classed as an ultra-Tory, frequently found myself more in agreement with Rowell and Crerar, the most advanced among Liberal elements, than with my former colleagues."

This being true, there is always the possibility of a realignment of nonprogressive Conservatives with nonprogressive Liberals to form one party of the Right, leaving the liberal-minded adherents of both to drift to a more leftist group such as the C.C.F. If the Conservative party fails to end its present period of uncertainty, and if it does not reframe its policies to conform with current progressive thought, the possibility of such a realignment will be brought near to a certainty. The hope for the Conservative party, and equally for the Liberal party, is to be found in recognizing the growing humanitarian trend of the times. Only by doing so may any party expect support from a majority of the people.

More Mass Murder

TWENTY HOSTAGES HAVE JUST PAID with their lives in Paris in reprisal for the slaying of a German sentinel on March 1. A statement issued from the office of General Otto von Stuepnagel, Nazi military administrator of occupied France, describes the victims as "Communists and Jews."

The stock excuse for wholesale murder. It should be noted, too, that the German military authorities announced on March 3 that 20 more French patriots would be shot if the "four youths" who eliminated the Nazi sentry were not turned over to Von Stuepnagel's myrmidons by March 16.

Not long ago Marshal Petain spoke of the "profound uneasiness" which these systematic murders were causing throughout France. But the head of the Vichy regime does not seem able to sum up sufficient courage to denounce them and all the works of the Nazi gang now in control of his country. When British bombers set out to destroy French factories which under German control, are turning out war material not only to increase Nazi domination over France but also to assist Hitler's plans for world domination, the aged Marshal accuses his former ally of attacking "only the civilian population" and describes the attack as a "national catastrophe."

Competent spokesmen in all the United Nations from time to time have voiced their understanding of the difficult situation in which Petain finds himself. But they are naturally much less patient with him now than they were a few months ago. The time has come to end even the mildest form of appeasement of Vichy. It is hopeless to suppose at this stage, of course, that the aged Marshal will admit that every bomb dropped on a French factory in the service of Berlin is a clarion call to the French people to assist in every way possible those whose ultimate objective is liberation of their once-proud nation.

IN THE GOOD OLD DAYS
From Christian Science Monitor

Historians have confirmed the fact that the discovery of America cost in the neighborhood of $7,200. Columbus drew a salary of $320 a year—less than a dollar a day. His captains' annual pay was $180, and his crew made out on $2.25 a month. To equip the entire expedition cost but $2,800. Lawyers' fees in the days of Edward IV were also proportionately low. In a baronet's diary appears the entry: "Paid to Roger Fylpott, learned in the law, 3 shillings, with fourpence for his dinner."

The clergy were not much better paid. John Knox, the leading divine of Scotland, received only $220 a year or about $4 a week. This was a dollar a week more than Scottish judges got.

But if salaries were almost nothing beside modern standards, consider the low cost of food. A dollar went a long way when it came to buying a family's Christmas dinner. The itemized bill would have read: Turkey, 10 cents; cranberry sauce, 2 cents; potatoes, 1 cent; turnips, 1 cent; celery, 1 cent; plum pudding, 2 cents. For a household of six the grand total was only 17 cents, or less than 3 cents a head.

Editorial Diary

IF SUCH BOYS HADN'T CHOSEN

THERE WAS A SERVICE in the old Baptist Church at York Mills last Sunday afternoon in memory of Bert Sinclair, writes Judith Robinson.

Bert and his two brothers were among the first of the York Mills boys to go to the war. Nearly everybody in the village knew the Sinclair boys, so nobody was surprised when the three that were old enough all joined the air force. Bert was killed in action over the English Channel a week ago last Saturday.

If you know York Mills, you will remember the Baptist Church. It is little and grey and nearly as old as the village. The outside is of battered pine boards, hand-hewn. It was there when there were three mill-dams and three mills on the Don in the mill hollow; when Toronto was nearly three hours away, down the ruts of Yonge Street. It hasn't changed greatly. Only the grain in the wide boards on the south wall has lifted with the weather of a hundred years so that it shows when the sun is on it, almost like a pattern made on purpose.

Nearly all the village came to the service for Bert, the children who had been the little ones in school when he was one of the big boys, with the older people. After the sermon the minister read the telegram telling how Bert had died, in action over the Channel, and that he was buried in an English grave. Then he spoke of the boy everybody there had known; a brave boy, kind and generous hearted and laughing as a boy should be.

OUTSIDE, the late February sun was dazzling on the whiteness of the hill fields and the smell that is the forerunner of spring in Canada was sweet in the air; the smell of melting snow and wet, sun-warmed bark.

The children were quiet for a little way from the church, then presently they were talking again. The water was beginning to run in the tire-tracks on the hill, but the ice looked all right on the rink yet.

In England in late February, the primroses begin to come in sheltered woods by the Channel, and gorse is in flower in the folds of the hills, and the grass is green, green on the downs. Those things would still be, and still be beautiful, as beautiful as sunlight on snowy fields, if Bert Sinclair had not gone out to die.

Only we should all have lost our right to beauty if such boys as he had not chosen to save it for us. Only we should all have been bereft of the hope by which we live, if the free spirit this boy shared with a few hundred thousand of his fellows, had not proved its strength immortal and unconquerable, even in death.

Bert Sinclair is buried in an English grave. In York Mills the boys he knew still play the games he played, untouched by terror. In York Mills, compassion is still unrationed. In York Mills young hearts can still beat free and young eyes look with anger on injustice and with contempt at cruelty and children can still share the sacrament of childhood's laughter, not knowing, yet, that they do it in remembrance of Bert.

THE LOTUS-EATERS OF MALAYA

The Ottawa Journal tells how Lady Brooke-Popham, whose husband was British Commander-in-Chief in the Far East until shortly before Singapore fell, gave a London reporter what probably was the real explanation of the catastrophe of Malaya.

Sir Robert's task of preparing Malaya's defences was quite hopeless, she said, "in view of the deadly inertia of the white population there." "Nothing could arouse the white people to their danger—they were utterly dormant." Air raid precautions were not taken seriously, the people refused to believe war could reach Singapore. "It was just parties, bridge and dancing."

In such places life is easy, the climate is hot and enervating, there is usually an abundance of servants, and white men and white women quickly fall into a lazy, placid routine. "It can't happen here," they say, if they read of unpleasant happenings elsewhere. Jap bombers come here? Why, Singapore is the strongest fortress in the world. Better about air raid shelters? The very idea!

White people from more virile climates, new to the tropics, realize the danger of this viewpoint, as Sir Robert Brooke-Popham saw the deadly peril of Singapore, and try to break through the shell of self-satisfaction. Almost invariably they find the task hopeless—and if they stay a few months they too begin to wonder what all the fuss was about. The club, the race track, dances and parties—these are the things which matter in such an atmosphere:

"To eat the lotus of the Nile
And drink the poppies of Cathay."
Thus the campaign in Malaya ran its course. The native Malaysians and the resident whites were sunk in inertia and just refused to take the danger seriously. "The services," says Lady Brooke-Popham, "were heartbroken," because obviously their own operations were gravely hampered by the necessity of protecting and feeding a large and indifferent civil population. But the lesson of it has not been lost. Rangoon, in Burma, now is in danger—and dispatches say all civilians have been evacuated.

Canada's War Boom

Grant Dexter, in Winnipeg Free Press

From the outbreak of war to December, 1941, the volume of retail sales increased 34 per cent.

In September, 1939, the index number stood at 109.9. By December last, it had risen to 147.2. This index is based on the average retail sales for 1935-39, which is equal to 100.

Of course, index numbers are only indicators but they reveal the extent to which the standard of living has risen.

The Bureau of Statistics remarks that retail trade last December was 16 per cent above December, 1940, and exceeded any other month of record.

All lines of business increased except those which are specifically restricted—such as radios and electrical installations, furniture and so on. Comparing December, 1941 with 1940, the Bureau of Statistics reports that sales of shoes were up 38 per cent; men's clothing and furnishings 26 per cent; women's specialties 16 per cent; department stores 14 per cent; hardware stores 17 per cent; drug stores 13 per cent; groceries and meat 20 per cent. The list could be indefinitely extended.

In the main, of course, retail sales are recorded by indices and increases, and can only be given in percentages. But the bureau records the sales of department stores in dollars. In comparing the dollar value of sales between 1939 and 1941, it must be remembered that there has been an increase in retail prices. The average of this increase is about 14 per cent. To the extent that the increases in dollar sales exceed 14 per cent there is a clean gain in goods bought:

	1939	1941
Women's dresses, coats and suits	$1,761,795	$2,574,221
Wear	2,265,481	3,042,377
Hosiery and gloves	10,782,760	13,067,016
Lingerie and corsets	10,428,634	13,225,577
Milinery	2,080,053	2,486,425
Men's and boys' clothing and furnishings	27,130,674	33,738,789
Drugs, toilet articles and preparations	7,163,720	8,821,622
Place goods	16,948,744	21,112,790
Small wares	6,461,379	10,113,790
Food and kindred products	51,321,226	58,616,410
Furniture	12,293,729	17,205,638
Home furnishings	15,496,859	20,892,499
Household appliances and electric supplies	6,193,432	8,721,865
Hardware, kitchen utensils	7,967,471	11,035,226
Radios, music, instruments, supplies	2,492,654	3,899,777
Shoes and other foot wear	17,494,052	21,285,706
Stationery, books and mass media	4,165,719	6,460,104
Other departments	28,316,052	35,936,020
Total	$229,898,217	$301,169,217

The foregoing figures apply to department stores and therefore only cover part of the business done in the larger cities. They may be taken as a fair indication of the great increase in the sale of goods and services in urban areas since the war began. The rise in city sales is more marked in eastern Canada and British Columbia than in the prairie provinces.

In rural Canada, the gain in retail sales has not been as great and the variations between different areas are more marked. To illustrate, the gains in December, 1941, over December, 1940, vary from a peak of 21.5 per cent in Quebec to an actual loss of 2 per cent in southern Saskatchewan. In rural Manitoba the gain was 14.8 per cent; in all Saskatchewan only 8.2 per cent; in Alberta 16.3 per cent.

$959,900,000 Subscribed

Loan Total Sets New Canadian Mark

OTTAWA (CP)—The three-week Second Victory Loan campaign which closed Saturday night provided $959,900,000 to the federal treasury and was "definitely the greatest of all Canadian war loans," national campaign headquarters announced here.

Of this sum $807,937,000 was subscribed in cash and $151,963,000 was in conversions of earlier Dominion issues into Victory Bonds.

There were almost 1,200,000 subscribers.

The figures made public are not complete, officials said. There was last-minute congestion of small subscriptions and returns from employee canvasses, and these would take some time to be put through the accounting machinery.

"It is expected that a further and more complete announcement will be made Wednesday or Thursday of this week, after the returns which are still in the hands of the unit organizations come through by wire or mail," a national headquarters statement said.

ONE OF EVERY EIGHT

"It is indicated that when final returns are in, one out of every eight of the population will be shown to have subscribed, as compared with one in every 12 in the last loan."

Complete returns from the provinces were not available immediately. These were the latest figures available from provincial loan headquarters, with quotas where known, in brackets:

Nova Scotia $23,889,750 ($17,000,000); New Brunswick $15,023,500 ($10,000,000); Prince Edward Island $1,515,150 ($1,500,000); Quebec $164,981,050 ($128,000,000); Ontario $444,006,000; Manitoba about $67,500,000 ($45,000,000); Saskatchewan $14,692,600 ($8,000,000); Alberta $20,449,000 ($16,500,000); British Columbia-Yukon $81,507,250 ($82,000,000).

Conversion subscriptions are not included in provincial totals.

ISLEY GRATIFIED

G. W. Spinney, chairman of the National War Finance Committee which conducted the loan drive, reported the $959,900,000 figure to Finance Minister Isley. "I am deeply gratified at the response made by the Canadian people," the Finance Minister said.

"In a speech in Montreal recently, I expressed the hope that Canadians would so conduct their war effort in every branch as to make our neighbors and Allies wonder just what it is in this 11,500,000 of people that makes them able to do such great things, and do them so well.

"I am sure that the record of subscriptions to this second Victory Loan will attract that kind of notice."

"It is evident that all of the provinces have exceeded their objectives and have worked with great ingenuity, ability, skill and enthusiasm."

The loan campaign just ended was the second "Victory" Loan drive since the war began. The first, last June, had a $600,000,000 objective and was subscribed to an extent of $710,958,950 cash.

"The totals of both subscribers and the amount raised in Canada's second Victory Loan are far greater than for even the biggest loan of the last war, namely, the 1918 Victory Loan, when 1,140,057 subscribers furnished the government with a total of $682,302,950," national loan headquarters said.

The statement indicated there will be a "Thank You" broadcast Wednesday evening over the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation's national network, in which Prime Minister Mackenzie King, Finance Minister Isley and Mr. Spinney will speak. Time of the broadcast was not given.

Escapes From Hongkong

Real Life 'Thriller' For Canadian Writer

LONDON (CP)—The Daily Mail said in a dispatch from Chungking that Arthur J. Duff, whom it described as a Chinese-speaking Canadian, had arrived at the provisional Chinese capital two months after escaping from fallen Hongkong.

Duff, the Mail said, arrived in Chungking Saturday and told the newspaper's correspondent he had taken refuge in a Chinese house the day before Hongkong fell and that although the Japanese searched the premises four times they failed to find him.

Then, his story continued, Jan. 10 Chinese friends helped him aboard a fishing boat which crept past six Japanese sentries to a Chinese village where he took refuge in a battlefield littered with British tanks.

RISKED ARREST

"It was nearly dark at the scene of this lost battle," the dispatch quoted Duff as saying. "People were watching me, so I entered a ditch and hid until dark. Then I walked through vegetable gardens to my rendezvous, staying until dawn at the house of a friendly Chinese. Sentries were stationed about the waterfront, but I decided I must risk arrest or being shot at."

"So, in heavy rain I walked on. I walked for a quarter of a mile without turning around despite a creepy feeling in my spine. Then I reached a ravine and climbed a hillside and from there got to the bay where I boarded the boat. "Eight armed men later came aboard and robbed me, so the next thing I landed and sent a Chinese to Hongkong to collect money and clothes for me.

KINDLY PIRATES

"I remained at a temple there for two days and was 'adopted' by Bias Bay pirates whose treatment was kind, but whose food was rough. Then we sailed for a secret anchorage and there spent six days awaiting a favorable wind."

"We were nearly starving, but the pirates went ashore and collected a cow, pig, chickens and cabbage on which we feasted at midnight by the light of flares."

"Then while the pirates ashore were making opium my junk was attacked by other armed men who bound me and took me aboard another junk with all the guns and ammunition in the pirate junk."

The Daily Mail said Duff's captors turned him over to Chinese guerrillas who escorted him inland beyond the reach of pirates and Japanese troops. Later, it said, he joined up with other refugees and completed the journey to Chungking by air.

The Daily Herald carried a similar story and said Duff was nicknamed "Stick," and was a well-known tennis player.

U.S. Freezes Women's Styles

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States war production board told Miss and Mrs. America in advance today that regulations now being drafted would "more or less freeze the existing silhouette" in women's clothes.

The regulations will cover both the design and materials of the clothing in millinery's wardrobe.

"The object will be to prevent radical changes in styles which would make women's clothes now worn, or already cut, out of style," R. R. Guthrie, W.P.B. textiles chief, declared.

Although admitting present stocks of women's clothes appeared adequate for this year, Guthrie said the W.P.B. intended to "provide for the rainy day while the sun is still shining."

Restriction now being drafted deal chiefly with establishment of maximum lengths and sweeps of women's coats and dresses, he explained, adding "It is our desire to more or less freeze the existing silhouette, and no drastic change in length is contemplated."

Conservation of materials will be reflected in orders eliminating jackets over dresses, topcoats over suits and similar articles consisting of more than two garments at a unit price.

Day in and day out for the last four years, these volunteers, numbering about 60 in all, have carried on a nonspectacular but effective program of aid for the stricken people of China. In the above picture the Times photographer found some of them making warm afghans out of discarded stocking tops, seen at the right, rolling bandages made from old cotton and linen, and making over used clothing for shipment to the victims of Japanese brutality.

The bride's simple white taffeta gown was cut in long princess lines, with sweetheart neckline with knife pleating at neck and sleeves and buttoned to the waistline with small white taffeta buttons. Her hand-embroidered net veil formed a halo and reached to the hem of the train. Hugh Warwick Gordon, R.C.N.V.R., son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Gordon of New York City, formerly of Shanghai.

The bride and her bridesmaid left Vancouver a week ago for the eastern city, where they were met on arrival by the groom's mother. His father flew from New York, where he is a member of the British Purchasing Commission, for the wedding, which was solemnized by Padre Walker in H.M.C.S. ## Train Girl Guides For War Service

LONDON — The Girl Guides' Association have devised a "pre-service training scheme" for girls from 14 to 20 to prepare them to take their place in any of the National Services when they are called up.

Specialized training, with individual attention, will be given to girls according to the service they wish to enter. W.R.N.S., A.T.S., W.A.A.F., Land Army and Civil Defence are all catered for. "An armet will be awarded on passing the general test," an official of the association told the press, "and to this may be added stripes, according to specialized work undertaken."

WAR SERVICE PATROLS

Similar schemes are in operation or about to start in other youth organizations. The Boy Scouts have started war service patrols for boys over 15, which will prepare them to take their places in the fighting services.

The Boys' Brigade have extended their age limit to 18½ for the same purpose, but regard their present system of training as being of great value to future soldiers without any changes being made.

WHAT YOU SHOULD KNOW AND DO ABOUT SUGAR RATIONING

HERE ARE THE SIMPLE FACTS:

With the opening of war in the Pacific, important supplies of sugar for the North American Continent were shut off—and may be shut off for a long while.

As good partners fighting a common foe, we have to share the available supply of sugar from the Caribbean and American sources with the United Kingdom, Russia and other allied countries.

Stocks of sugar in Canada are actually sufficient to meet normal needs. Precautionary measures had to be taken, however, to reduce the consumption of sugar in this country, in order to maintain ample reserves against all emergencies, and in case the restricted sources of sugar should still further dry up. The United States was also compelled to put similar regulations into force at the same time as Canada.

YOU NEED NOT HOARD—YOU MUST NOT HOARD

The retail price of sugar is controlled under the Price Ceiling regulations—and will not be increased. There's absolutely no need for hoarding, but extravagant use of sugar is inexcusable and Canadians must make some reduction in the consumption of it. We're lucky it's not more.

SUMMARY OF THE SUGAR RATION LAW

1. The ration is  $\frac{1}{4}$  pound per person per week, including adults, children and infants, members of the family, boarders, servants, and guests who remain for four days or more.
2. Purchase your sugar in the ordinary way, but not more than two weeks' supply at a time. No coupons, stamps or tickets are required.
3. Do not purchase any sugar if you have two weeks' supply or more on hand.
4. Persons in remote areas who are not able to buy frequently may continue to buy more than two weeks' supply at a time, but must measure their consumption at the ration rate, namely  $\frac{1}{4}$  pound per person per week. Grocers must keep a record of purchases in excess of two weeks' supply.
5. Economize on sugar in every way you can; many people can get along on less than the ration.
6. Additional supplies of sugar will be made available for home preserving and canning.
7. The restriction applies to cane and beet sugar of all kinds—granulated sugar, icing sugar, fruit sugar, brown sugar, raw sugar, etc.
8. Retailers are entitled to refuse to sell or to limit sales to any person they have reason to believe is attempting to disregard the law.
9. Penalties provided for wilful infractions of these regulations are imprisonment for as long as two years and a fine up to $5,000.00.

'Bader Boy' Badge Of Honor in R.C.A.F.

OTTAWA (CP) — Cpl. Jack Girling of Saskatoon, a tall, talkative Canadian who has returned to Canada after four years in England, described Sqdn. Ldr. Douglas Bader—legless R.A.F. hero—as a "fine fellow who really liked Canadian airmen."

Girling said he had been attached to the Canadian squadron Bader led in England, adding that to be known as a "Bader boy," was a distinct honor in the R.C.A.F. He thought it was, apparently, as he continued to tell of the exploits of his leader, now a prisoner of war in Germany.

"Saskatoon is going to look awfully good to me," Girling said. He hadn't been home for four years. "And after taking bombs for the last two years, I never want to hear another air raid alarm," he said.

Girling had been through the blitz of London, in fact, was one of the first Canadians to experience German bombing tactics. He was stationed on the Shetland Islands when the initial attacks were made.

A.R.P. Activities

No. 1A will meet in the Oak Bay Municipal Hall Tuesday at 8. Warden in sections 4, 5 and 6 are requested to attend. A report will be made on the combined field exercise held last week. This will be followed by a discussion, and some first aid problems. Wardens wishing to enter for the next first aid class are requested to register through their patrol leaders.

District 3D (Hillside), met Thursday in Quadra School, Cpl. D. W. Taylor spoke on A.R.P. activities to over 300 people, including the A.R.P. personnel of this district and District 3C (Burnside). Three moving pictures

Now It's 'Phantom' Ball

WASHINGTON (AP) — The only big parties given in Washington these days are the parties that no one has to go to. If you're invited you buy a ticket and then stay home. They call them phantom balls because there are no refreshments, no music and no guests. In fact, there's no ball.

Cockeyed? Not exactly. The balls are given to collect money for some relief society. If there are no over-head expenses for such things as a ball room, an orchestra and food and drink, 100 per cent of the ticket money goes to relief.

And the ticket buyers are satisfied because no one in Washington today has time to go to a ball anyway.

BOILED SHIRTS OUT

The phantom ball typifies the wartime mood of the capital's party-goers. Local society has put its formal clothing in moth balls for the duration. What entertaining is being done is in business clothes, and invitations almost always end with the blessed postscript: "Come as you are and straight from work."

Society matrons who used to meet at large bridge parties now come together in small groups to discuss Red Cross and civilian defence work over tea cups. One hostess recently held such a party in her garage. A neighbor auto shop worker gave the ladies a lesson in motor mechanics.

The official days at home which the wives of cabinet members formerly held once a week have been canceled entirely. Embassies which used to give parties for 1,500 guests have slashed their lists to 200 and are satisfied if 100 show up.

C.G.I.T. Notes

Victoria Leaders' Council met Wednesday last at the First United Church, with the president, Jean Wilson, in the chair. Two representatives of the W.M.S. links to the C.G.I.T. were welcomed. The Misses Hepburn, Morrison, Meade and Robinson will be in charge of the next meeting on April 1. The next three meetings will be held at 8 p.m. instead of a supper meeting. The theme for next month's Morning Watch is "Crusading With Christ."

Reports were given on how the various churches raised their money during C.G.I.T. Week. Centennial Church will have an "Old-fashioned Parade" on Tuesday, March 24. Each leader was given a questionnaire form for her group to fill out and was requested to hand this in at the next meeting. Miss Lillian Parfitt gave a talk on the value of church membership and the responsibility of the girl to the church. Miss Rita Rogers gave numerous suggestions for "Making the Most of Easter," while Miss Sylvia Smith spoke on

"Easter Stories, Poems and Hymns," and Mrs. Hubbard spoke on "Finding God Through Easter."

Tin Shortage

Ban Vegetables in Cans; Ersatz Containers Coming

What are we going to do about tin cans?

Canners are puzzled but they have some alternatives.

The government has already issued orders limiting the use of tin and freezing the price. A further lowering of the tin content in tins and an extension of the prohibited list is anticipated in order to conserve existing or available stocks.

Restrictions on the use of tin for cans means that Canadians, if they have not already felt tin rationing, are going to soon. They will have to get used to getting along without certain foods which formerly could be bought in cans, and they will have to get used to buying foods, which formerly came in cans, in bottles, paper and lacquered metal containers.

NO VEGETABLES

The list of vegetables no longer to go in tin cans includes beets, carrots, corn-on-the-cob, apples, apple sauce and apple pie filler, pork and beans, baked beans, spaghetti, macaroni and vermicelli.

It is suggested by Food Controller Taggart, according to the Canadian Grocer, that fruits such as cherries, loganberries, raspberries, strawberries, blueberries and others should only be packed in hotel-size, or 105-ounce, tins, not in household sizes.

Soon we may be buying toothpaste and shaving soap in collapsible tubes made of an alloy of lead and silver—mostly lead. We may buy more food in glass bottles and can expect grocers to hand out more goods in special types of paper containers.

PAPER CONTAINERS

Coffee, tea, baking powder, and similar dry products, may soon be retailed in these paper containers, which are already used by many companies. Baking powders can go in containers made of heavy paper with tin plate, or other metallic materials, for the top. Cartons of heavy cardboard can be used to ship hard candies which formerly went in 20-pound tin pails.

So far there is no move to ration glass bottles, but there might be difficulty eventually in finding metal for tops. Glass can substitute for tin for most fruits.

Black plate given a lacquer coating has been successfully adapted for use as a container, and more and more products are being packed in it. The only catch here is the making of black plate may be curtailed because of a shortage of steel.

SILVER FOR TIN

There is one more substitute for tin—silver.

Silver costs 42 cents an ounce, about 10 times as much as tin.

Makers of collapsible tubes have been using an alloy that is largely tin. Late last year, when the threat to the tin supply became serious, work on substitute materials was far enough advanced to handle the situation.

Already experimental silver alloy tubes are in the hands of the manufacturers. It appears likely that the small proportion of silver used would not materially affect the cost of the toothpaste or shaving soap which the consumer buys.

When no more tin can be had, Modern Containers, large makers of collapsible tubes, expects to be ready with the new alloy using silver in place of tin.

American silver producers have carried research far enough to indicate that there is no production problem that cannot be overcome in turning out cans of silver plate. But it would apparently have to be an electroplating process not the "hot-dipping" process now used to make tinplate. This would mean changes in manufacturing methods and new equipment is hard to get.

SILVER CANS EXPENSIVE

The cost barrier of silver-plated metal for cans, even as a war emergency, may be too high.

Hardest hit by the tin shortage are the canners. Now is the season when they arrange their contracts with growers for next season's pack of fruits and vegetables. Today canners don't know what they will be permitted to put in cans nor how much; what sizes of cans will be permitted. All that is certain now is that drastic cuts are required.

No arrangement, particularly as it affects the canners, has yet been finalized, it is understood.

Canners want to know how much tinplate they can have and the food controller wants to know what items they are ready to eliminate.

The canning industry has been by far the largest user of tinplate, but it is by no means the only one.

STARTED WITH WAR

The whole problem of tin, of course, grew out of the war in the Pacific. Before the war, the Malay States and the Dutch East Indies together produced well over half the world's tin supply. Although more tin is wanted by war industries, this source has been cut off.

The only accessible large tin source in the western hemisphere is Bolivia, which, before the war, produced less than one-fourth the total world supply.

Silver is produced in Canada to the extent of about 25,000,000 ounces a year. B.C. produces almost half Canada's total. Before the war Canada used annually about 6,000 tons of tin.

Rev. Hugh McLeod Writes Devotion

NASHVILLE—More than 1,500,000 people throughout the country were led in their devotional thoughts one morning recently by Rev. Hugh McLeod, pastor of the First United Church of Victoria, through his contribution for the day in the "Upper Room." Methodist quarterly of daily readings, published here.

Established in 1935, the "Upper Room" has increased in circulation from 100,000 for the first issue to 1,071,550 for the third quarter of 1941. The booklet was originally published for the use of Methodists in their daily devotions, but is now followed regularly by members of many other religious denominations. It is printed in seven different languages and braille.

Weight Under Water Determines Fitness

CHICAGO—A new method of determining whether men are too fat to be physically fit is proposed by Lieut. Cmdr. A. R. Behnke Jr., Lieut. B. G. Feen and Lieut. W. C. Welham of the U.S. Navy's medical corps, in a report to the Journal of the American Medical Association here.

The method involves weighing the men under the surface of the water to determine their average body density or specific gravity. Fat has a comparatively low specific gravity, so measuring the specific gravity of the body mass, the navy surgeons believe, should give a good estimate of the fat content of the body. It should be a more reliable method than comparison with the average height and weight tables for determining whether a 200-pound man, for example, is a "fatty" or a heavy-weight.

On the basis of the standard height-weight tables, 17 of 25 all-American football players examined by the navy surgeons in their studies could not be considered qualified for military duty or first-class life insurance risk. Of the 17 who would be rejected, 11 are in prime physical condition, according to the new method of classification, if absence of excessive fat is a sign of physical fitness.

"Values of specific gravity for healthy men ranging in age between 20 and 40 fall between 1.021 and 1.027," the navy surgeons report.

"Low values for specific gravity indicate obesity, and conversely, high values denote leanness. Individual loss in weight through exercise and restricted diet is associated with an increase in specific gravity."

Drug Kills Pain After Tooth Pulled

CHICAGO—That long, dull ache remaining in your jaw after a tooth has been pulled can be mercifully reduced by a drug with a long name, para-nitrobenzoic acid, which is allied to the sulfa drugs.

The drug also is the most deadly of all its relatives against the germ found most frequently in infected tooth sockets—streptococcus viridans. So report three dentists of the division of oral surgery, University of Minnesota Dental School, Drs. C. A. Griffith, A. D. Hirschfelder and W. J. Simon. Their report is published in the current journal of the American Dental Association.

In routine extractions (not impacted teeth), the dentists found that with use of the para-nitrobenzoic acid, pain occurred in only three, or .6 per cent of 528 cases.

REVIVAL CAMPAIGN

Realizing the need of a spiritual revival the First Baptist Church and Emmanuel Baptist Church are uniting together in an evangelistic campaign to be held at the First Baptist Church from March 15 to 22 inclusive. Plans have been under way for some time, and in preparation of the campaign cottage prayer meetings have been held for the past few weeks. Rev. G. A. Reynolds of the First Baptist Church and Rev. Wilfrid L. McKay of the Emmanuel Baptist Church are conducting the special services, and the campaign speaker will be Rev. J. L. Sloat, pastor of the Olivet Baptist Church, New Westminster. Mr. Sloat is well-known in western Canada for his successful ministry, and he is a speaker of great ability. The musical part of the services will be in charge of Victor Stroud, the well-known singer, and the choir of both churches will also assist.

St. Paul's Keeps Japanese Nurses

VANCOUVER—Japanese nurses at St. Paul's Hospital have not been discharged, although Japanese nurses at Vancouver General Hospital have been asked to withdraw. Miss Grace Fairley, director of nursing at Vancouver General Hospital said withdrawal was made necessary by federal government order-in-council.

Sister Calumple, director of nursing training at St. Paul's said she had been advised by legal counsel not to dismiss any nurses of Japanese race until directed to do so by authorities.

There is one Japanese girl in training at St. Paul's, one graduate on the staff and two special Japanese nurses retained by patients. Sister Calumple said only a few white patients had objected to Japanese nurses.

At Vancouver General Hospital one Japanese girl was due to graduate in May, another was in her third year of a six-year university course leading to the degree of bachelor of applied science. The third entered the training school in January.

Radio Treatment Relieves Headaches

CHICAGO—Chronic sufferers from sinus disease who do not have pus in their nasal discharges can be definitely benefited by treatment with short radio waves, Dr. George R. Brighton, Dr. William Benham Snow and Dr. Herbert S. Friedman of Presbyterian Hospital, New York, report to the Journal of the American Medical Association.

For patients with this type of sinus disease, who have the familiar quartette of symptoms, mucoid nasal discharge, postnasal drip, headache and nasal obstruction, the treatment is of benefit particularly in the relief of headache.

On the other hand, patients with allergic rhinitis are not helped by the treatment. The New York doctors do not advise it in cases of acute sinus disease or chronic sinusitis with pus discharges.

"Short wave therapy is employed indiscriminately in many intranasal conditions in which it does little good and may do harm," they said.

The effects of short wave treatment are believed due to the heat produced in the tissues.

Your Life Insurance in Wartime

IN TIME OF WAR, the security underlying your life insurance takes on a new meaning. More than ever before, security for the family is paramount.

While supporting that security, your life insurance dollars, invested in Government Bonds, are helping to buy planes, tanks, ships, guns, and all the other implements of war. Thus your life insurance dollars are helping to safeguard your life and to protect your liberties.

At the end of 1941, Metropolitan had a total of $1,319,913,986.74 invested in Canadian and United States Government Bonds... over 23% of the Company's assets.

In both Canada and the United States, life insurance dollars are helping to finance the industries which are pouring out the steel, chemicals, oil, food, munitions, and other materials needed for the war and to finance power production and transportation facilities. Each month more and more of your life insurance dollars are flowing from the channels of peace into investments that serve war uses and war industries.

Because of public appreciation of life insurance, increased efficiency of our agents, and the better national income during 1941, lapses and surrenders were at the lowest rate recorded in the Company's history.

In fulfilling its obligations to policyholders during 1941, Metropolitan paid or credited to policyholders and their beneficiaries more than $567,900,000. Of this amount, more than $383,700,000 was paid or credited to living policyholders.

Metropolitan is a mutual company. Its assets are held for the benefit of its policyholders and their beneficiaries. In the meantime, these assets are, as always in the past, being used to help meet national needs.

ONE MINUTE NEWS ABOUT JOHNS-MANVILLE

PUZZLING QUESTION HAS SIMPLE ANSWER

One thing that has puzzled your J-M reporter, since learning about different kinds of building materials, is why people are satisfied with side-walls which by their nature are bound to wear out and need replacing. The only answer seems to be the simple one—many people still haven't discovered Johns-Manville's amazing new Cedargrain Asbestos Siding Shingles.

J-M Cedargrains, made of asbestos and Portland cement, are fireproof, as permanent as stone, and cost no more than ordinary siding materials. In addition, they never need painting to preserve them—and because of that fact alone, could be called by far the most economical in the long run. On top of all other advantages, these shingles have the beautiful grain of old, weathered wood, with attractive wavy butts. For interesting free literature on "Cedargrains" just call your J-M dealer, V.I. Hardwood Floor Company, 707 Johnson Street, G 7314.

Navy Pacifics Press

U.S. Convoy Story Proved No 'Scoop'

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States Navy said a London Daily Mail dispatch telling of American-Japanese naval fighting and the movement of American convoys to Australia was dispatched from Honolulu, rather than from a ship at sea, as its headline indicated.

Reporting the results of an investigation into the dispatch, the navy said:

"Further analysis of the story in the light of now known circumstances suggests that it contains no factual information about movements to Australia which had not been published by the American press prior to the London Daily Mail publication."

The Navy's report on the dispatch, credited to Walter Farr, Daily Mail correspondent, was in the form of a note to editors made available for publication if desired.

It said:

"This is a final Navy Department report on the Farr incident."

"Late information reaching Washington now locates Farr's filing at Honolulu, where he arrived March 2 direct from California."

"The 'Speeding through the southwest Pacific' story was filed by Farr in person ashore in Honolulu. It was dispatched by commercial communications after review by a Public Relations Officer of the Pacific fleet, who is also ashore."

"Farr was given transportation from California to Hawaii by the Navy."

NO NEW FACTS

"It is now our impression here that the Farr story contained no positive facts having any relations whatsoever to new convoy operations in the southwest Pacific."

"While we do not agree here with the judgment of the naval officer at Honolulu who reviewed and released the story, we can understand why he might not have regarded the story as news."

"So far as we can determine, no American correspondent who has covered the same limited ground covered by Mr. Farr has found in such coverage anything similar to report. Consequently, we repeat that no remotely similar American copy is being withheld by naval authorities at any point."

Farr's dispatch, dateline: "At sea Friday," described the movement of "great convoys" of American troops, pilots, planes, tanks and guns in a steady stream to Australia. Farr also mentioned "naval and air battles without parallel" which he said were developing in the southwest Pacific.

CLAIMS CENSORSHIP

LONDON (CP)—The editor of the London Daily Mail has issued the following statement:

"Statements made by United States naval officials in connection with the cable sent by our correspondent, Walter Farr, from a United States convoy at sea and which appeared in Saturday's issue of the Daily Mail are clearly based on lack of knowledge of the facts."

"Farr's cable was handed in and dispatched from an important United States naval base and not from any British territory."

"It is inconceivable in these circumstances that the message should not have passed through United States naval censorship."

Gale Lashes Toronto

TORONTO (CP)—A southwest wind which at times reached near-hurricane proportions lashed Toronto's lakefront today and swept across the city.

Electric signs crashed to the pavement in many sections of the city, trees were uprooted and bricks were blown off the tops of some older buildings.

In Arabia coffee was first drunk only by learned and religious persons.

Metropolitan Life Does Well

POLICYHOLDERS' PREMIUM DOLLARS AIDING PURCHASE OF TOOLS OF WAR

OTTAWA—The vitally important contribution to war effort which the individual policyholder is making through his life insurance premium payments is revealed in the 75th annual report of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company just released. The report stresses the fact that in time of war the security underlying life insurance takes on a new meaning. More than ever before security for the family is paramount. But, while supporting that security, life insurance dollars, invested in government bonds, are helping to buy planes, tanks, ships, guns and all the other implements of war. In both Canada and the United States life insurance dollars are helping to finance the industries which are pouring out the steel, chemicals, oil, food, munitions and other materials needed for the war and to finance power production and transportation facilities.

Illustrating the extent of such war effort by life insurance dollars, Metropolitan reports investment of $1,319,913,987 in Canadian and United States government bonds.

For the year ending December 31, 1941, Metropolitan reports a total of $25,433,226,148 of life insurance in force, and accident and health insurance providing $1,634,617,475 principal sum benefits and $25,997,024 weekly benefits, which gave protection to the more than 29,400,000 of the company's policyholders in Canada and the United States. Both the amount of insurance and the number of policyholders represent new high marks in the company's history. For the 10th successive year payments to policyholders and their beneficiaries exceeded a half billion dollars, the figure for 1941 being $567,941,290, and payments were made at an average rate of $4,701.50 a minute each business day of the year. More than $383,700,000 or over 67 per cent of this total was paid or credited to living policyholders. An increase of $290,255,559 in assets—brought the company's assets to $5,648,047,196 at the end of 1941. This amount, all of which is held for the benefit of policyholders, covers liabilities, including statutory policy reserves of $5,189,988,752; special surplus funds of $7,190,000, unassigned funds (surplus) of $340,894,142, and reserve for dividends payable to policyholders in 1942, amounting to $109,974,302. Including the 1942 declaration, the total amount paid or credited to date by the company to its policyholders for dividends (and bonuses prior to its mutualization in 1915) has been in excess of $1,750,000,000.

U.S. Troops Start On Alaska Road

EDMONTON (CP)—The first U.S. troops ever to set foot in Edmonton as wartime units have passed through the city on their way north to prepare the way for others who will follow to build the highway to Alaska.

A special train Saturday night from Wyoming carried a quarter-master's unit, Capt. Elmo W. Schiel was in charge. The second, carrying engineers from California, went through early today. Lieut. Robert Greenwalt of Des Moines, Iowa, was in charge.

The troops talked to the 100 odd people who were at the station to see them. Their arrival had been a military secret.

Carrying tents, trucks and food, the trains stopped in Edmonton only long enough to change engines and have water added to the cook cars, then headed north again. The trains were made up of passenger coaches and freight cars. The freight cars carried multiple-wheeled trucks and other vehicles.

QUICK WORK

The job of the first unit, it was stated, would be to establish a "rail head" camp. The engineers will "bust through" on the present winter road which extends some distance north of Fort St. John, B.C.

DEMAND THE RESULTS YOU WANT

In all the acrimonious criticism of the plebiscite, no doubts are raised about the political system of which it is an outcome. We permitted the party system and its laments to divide us in peace and now our national unity and security are threatened. Even as the Japanese problem has brought us together irrespective of parties, so will the increasing threat to our lives compel us to demand the full use of all our resources and the alteration of any system, agricultural, recruiting, industrial, financial, etc., to produce that result. That will be our policy. In the past we have never presented our policy but meekly agreed to vote for "methods" (no conscription being one). These methods are "offered" as planks of party springboards. The people being uninformed of the factors affecting the situation, and therefore unable to express an expert opinion, are unfairly called upon to share in the responsibility of adopting some "method" by voting for it. In being able to choose between "methods," people think they are exercising their freedom, but it is the sort of freedom you get when you are permitted to choose between being hanged or electrocuted. Both are equally unpleasant and the final result to you is disastrous.

A. H. JUKES, Major.

HOW MUCH?

How much does Mr. Thornley think it would have been worth to the British people to have restored the corrupt Czarist regime? Would not that $100,000,000 have been better employed in slum clearance and other worthwhile objectives?

W. H. HAWKES.
Box 252, Duncan.

TOO MUCH ON CREDS

One feels that if but one-half of the time, money and energy now spent in the support and propagation of creeds, were devoted to the support of all movements which have for their aim the raising of the standard of all mankind and the attainment of something approaching equality, this old world would soon, sooner perhaps than we think, become the Paradise it has been so well equipped to become.

CLYDE FRASER.

ALWAYS TWO SIDES

While I hesitate to question so outstanding a scholar as Mr. Sanders, may I put in a few humble words for the despised "fundamentalist" so roundly "trounced" by Mr. Sanders from the great height of his profound knowledge; and may I also suggest there are two sides to every question and that ridicule of his opponents in thought, and a bare denial of their beliefs is really not very much of an argument. Had I the time I could quote just as many, and possibly a great many more authors who believe the Bible, including Ussher's dates, and can bring more and better evidence in support.

One of the chief reasons for the tribulation we are facing today, is because we have listened to made-in-Germany modernist theories and higher criticism of our sheet-anchor the Bible. These theories and criticisms have undermined our beliefs to such an extent that we hardly believe in God at all any more, and we are suffering accordingly.

May I be permitted space for just two short quotations from archeologists of world renown, to show that all the authorities do not favor Mr. Sanders' soul-destroying beliefs.

"Without taking account of their limited knowledge of the period, and relying on classical history, some critics and commentators used to deny that Belshazzar ever existed, and others that he ever ruled. The classics had told them that Nabonidus was the last king of Babylon. Hundreds and even thousands of cuneiform tablets of the period have now been found in Babylon. Their evidence has established the fact that Belshazzar was made co-regent with Nabonidus, his father, in the third year of the latter's reign; they further suggest that Belshazzar's mother was probably a daughter of Nebuchadnezzar. And lastly, they demonstrate that this chapter of Daniel excels all classical and other historical accounts in its knowledge of the period. (Marston.)

"There are two schools of thought regarding the historicity and interpretation of the Book of Daniel. The first takes the book at its face value, and gives it credit for being exactly what it pretends to be. The other is the so-called higher criticism method—the taking of the book in every manner possible but the correct one. The 'higher critic' maintains that the book was written in the time of the Macabees by one who knew nothing of the times and history of which he was writing."

"From cuneiform tablets in the British Museum we know the details of the 43 years of the reign of Nebuchadnezzar, in which is included the seven years during which Daniel was viceroy, and the 25 years of the three kings that fill the gap between the close of the fourth chapter (of Daniel) and the opening of the fifth." (Kinnaman.)

STEEL PLANT

It appears we "might" get a steel plant on Vancouver Island within six months. Should it not materialize within that time a further wait-and-see period of 50 years is the punishment forecast for us residents.

The McKee report mentions the American Can Co., and a proposed Vancouver firm as being the two companies to deal with the output of the plant in iron and steel, the latter taking a potential 20,000 tons of billets. It then goes on to point out that a 75,000-ton capacity output is the least that would pay to develop, and so forth. In all, a reserved but quite favorable report to make to our provincial government.

The writer is still pinning his faith to the C.P.R. president, Sir Edward Beatty, K.C., etc., who knows cost of manufacture and that of water-borne transportation to any part of the globe.

With all due respect to any other companies or proposed companies, the writer ventures to say that Sir Edward has now or will control all the companies he may require for the development of an all-out steel plant.

Going a step further, at Union Bay, Sir Edward can manufacture iron and steel to be delivered on any market, just about as cheap as Mr. Henry Ford could, should need be, manufacture and deliver an automobile in any competition.

WITCH BURNING

Mr. A. B. Sanders' letter of Feb. 25 raises many questions. One question, however, that the ignorant man in the street asks, is: Are scholars always to be depended on to give us the whole truth?

He mentions a letter from Prof. Woolley in 1928; in regards to his excavations in Mesopotamia not confirming the Biblical legends of the creation and the flood.

As regards Flood, let us read Prof. Woolley's book, "Ur of the Chaldees" (1929), which the author describes in a foreword as a popular summary of seven years' work.

Page 26. The shafts went deeper and suddenly the character of the soil changed. Instead of the stratified pottery and rubbish we were in perfectly clean clay, uniform throughout, the texture of which showed that it had been laid there by water.

Page 27. The clean clay continued without change... until it had attained a thickness of a little over eight feet. Then suddenly as it had begun, it stopped and we were once more in layers of rubbish...

Pages 28, 29. The bed of water-laid clay... could only have been the result of a flood; no other agency could possibly account for it... no ordinary rising of the rivers would leave behind it anything approaching the bulk of this claybank; eight feet of sediment imply a very great depth of water, and the flood which deposited it must have been of a magnitude unparalleled in local history...

Taking into consideration all the facts, there could be no doubt that the flood of which we had thus found the only possible evidence was the "Flood of Sumerian history and legend, the Flood on which is based the story of Noah."

PRAIRIE EXPERIENCE

From Charles W. Peterson, editor and publisher of the Farm and Ranch Review, Calgary, I have received the following letter: "Thank you very much indeed for yours with enclosure which I have read with a great deal of interest. On the subject of Single Tax I can only say that the whole of the prairie section was organized on the basis of a land tax, because it was an easy tax to collect. The result over the years has been disastrous to the owners of property. I doubt whether in any country on earth there has been a greater forfeiture of title to the public than has occurred in the prairie section of Canada. Municipalities like Lethbridge, Calgary and Edmonton are now by far the most important property owners. It would not be very far from the truth if I stated that practically all unimproved property is in the hands of these cities. The outside speculator has lost his money and citizens who have bought property in good faith to build on when circumstances permitted have lost their investment completely. The single tax is a delusion. I never had the slightest confidence in it."

JOHN DEAN.

PRAYING VS. WORKING

I have read W. Fyfe's letter about what he thinks is the futility of prayer. Multitudes of people ignore God until trouble comes and then expect the God whom they have not only ignored but have grievously offended to come to their assistance.

I know we have had days appointed for prayer; but we have in the observance of them come very far short, e.g., of the example of the people of Nineveh, who proclaimed a fast and cried mightily unto God; the king ordering "let them turn every one from his evil way... who can tell if God will turn and repent and turn away from His fierce anger, that we perish not."

We have neglected the House of God; we have desecrated the Day of God. Is it not, therefore, rather unreasonable to complain that He does not immediately answer our prayer? We deserve chastisement and humiliation and we are getting them. The sooner these bring us to true and heartfelt and universal repentance the sooner will be a change.

J. MACKIE NIVEN.
1441 Elford Street.

WORKING AND PRAYING

It may be that God, or gods, represent all that the people don't know or can't do yet, and prayer enables them to get better and fuller ideas of all the unknown. The result, sooner or later, is better action on the front somewhere, at home or overseas. People do not expect miracles now; whatever good or evil that is to be done, they expect to do themselves.

So there is no need to get impatient or angry with the preachers. They may yet be in munitions factories or handling rifles in common with all other red-blooded Canadian men and women. Why should they expect, or receive, any special privileges or exemptions? At present they are making an honest enough living—hired to do work for wages.

MRS. JANE MONTGOMERY.
1598 McRae Avenue.

MEN AND SUGAR

May I point out to J. W. Green, that to the average person the sugar ration is quite tolerable. One and a half pounds of sugar a week for two persons is quite sufficient. That has been proven. Does not Mr. Green realize that we are at war and unless we make some sacrifices we will find ourselves doing without more necessary things than an overdose of sugar?

Frankly, I cannot understand people who use four lumps of sugar in a restaurant "teacup." Apparently, some men are not taking proper precautions to keep their boyish figures. With the shortage of rubber resulting in the shortage of girdles, I would suggest they give this a thought.

I realize it would probably be a great sacrifice to cut four lumps down to two, but wouldn't that be a noble thought? One could satisfy one's sweet tooth by buying a cake and filling up on that if we really felt one was being robbed.

NO 'OWL' CARS

In view of the fact that there is a rubber shortage, and that presently even our tires may be commandeered; and gas is already about to be rationed, why is there no talk of the other side of the question? How to help the people to get to the places to which they have to go? What plans are made by the car lines to meet this situation? Why ask for citizens to restrict their use of gasoline when the cars stop running between 11:30 and 12 p.m., while most entertainments continue beyond that time. The buses have added to their number, why not street cars? Victoria, the last year or two, has pretty nearly doubled her population. Why has no plan been in readiness to cope with this situation? Why do not the City Fathers insist on the people's side being thought of? We are told to keep our cars off the street as much as possible, yet no transportation is provided in lieu thereof. Present arrangements are not planned for the benefit of the people.

GEORGINA E. DUNN.

PRE-CAUSE

Mr. Bird holds Christianity to be the "pre-cause" of the world's predicament today, though outside of the Communist and Socialist circles the unanimous conviction prevails that the basic cause is precisely the rejection of Christian ethics and ideals in favor of a return to pagan trends of thought and action, popularly known as materialism, and just now strikingly exemplified (apologies to Joseph Stalin) in the person of the world's greatest Socialist, Adolf Hitler.

A. J. WEBB.

WILL THEY?

"After the war the province of Quebec will have control of Canada," said Mr. Bouchard, a candidate in Quebec City-by-election at one of his meetings, "if we can rally to our cause all Canadians of non-Britannic origin."

Mr. Gardiner, in the House of Commons at Ottawa, Feb. 10, as Minister of Agriculture, said, "In my own province of Saskatchewan only 45.8 per cent are of British descent, 5.4 per cent are French-Canadians, and this leaves 48.8 per cent who are now English-speaking."

JOHN LAMB.
860 Colville Rd.

LAW AND PROPHECY

Mr. Sanders, in quoting Matt. 5:18, omitted the vital last clause of that passage, "till all be fulfilled." The impression which the quotation thus conveys that the law was a permanent institution, whereas, as everyone knows who understands anything of the New Testament, the very essence of its teaching is that the law was annulled by the death of Jesus Christ. It was no longer binding upon believers. So that there is no excuse, either for "believers," whether kings or commoners to invoke its declarations to justify their own evil actions.

A. M. GREEN.

JAPS, WAGES AND PIPELINE

Gasoline and fuel oil is going to be a thing of the past soon.

Thousands of oil burners will have to be scrapped. Gasoline and oil is going to be at a premium, and thousands of motorists will have to go without gasoline. Tankers are being sunk like flies and money is being sent out of Canada by the millions of dollars for this product.

Now we have a Jap problem: No one wants to employ them. Why put them in the sticks paying them good money, making roads that they know nothing about building. These roads wouldn't be used for years to come and only by tourists in the summer.

Why not have them build a C.P.R. right-of-way, saving pipeline from Calgary, following the C.P.R. right-of-way, saving money on surveys clearing land, and heavy transportation charges. There is enough gasoline and oil in southern Alberta to supply all Canada and all our ships.

One might say, where would we get the pipe. Put up a small steel mill and make it here on the island. We have the coal and ore, all we need is co-operation with our politicians, engineers and the general public. We could put this line through pretty quick and keep our money at home. They did it from Portland, Maine to Montreal, paying men high wages. Now we have a chance of getting cheap labor, it wouldn't be right to say prisoner labor, which they are more or less, because a prisoner is given his food and clothing.

No doubt we could sell a lot of this gasoline and oil to the State of Washington as they are going to be in the same box as we.

This is not a pipe dream, it has been done in other parts of the world. The Japs and Germans would put this line through in no time, why can't we?

I don't think the oil companies would try to stop this project as they own the wells in Alberta, and would be putting their own products on the market. Premier Aberhart might try to stop it, but the federal government would override him as a war measure.

FRENZY AND JITTERS

Mr. Davidson is to be congratulated for his letter condemning the "jittery" attitude of certain sections of our community.

This state of mind has been brought about by politicians, newspaper broadcasters and fifth columnists. Civilian morals have been broken down, confidence in military and federal direction weakened, just because some let their fears run away with them. They think we are complacent unless we are all jumping round on pogo sticks in a state bordering on mass hysteria.

We have been given to understand that the direction of the war on the Pacific was in the hands of a group, called the A.B.C.D. council, composed of the air, army and navy chiefs in Washington and London. Surely, these men are as anxious to win as we are, and why should they listen to the clamor from every village in the Americas. These frightened Freddie are really Hitler's little helpers.

R.C.A.F. Flashes Over English Channel to Challenge Luftwaffe

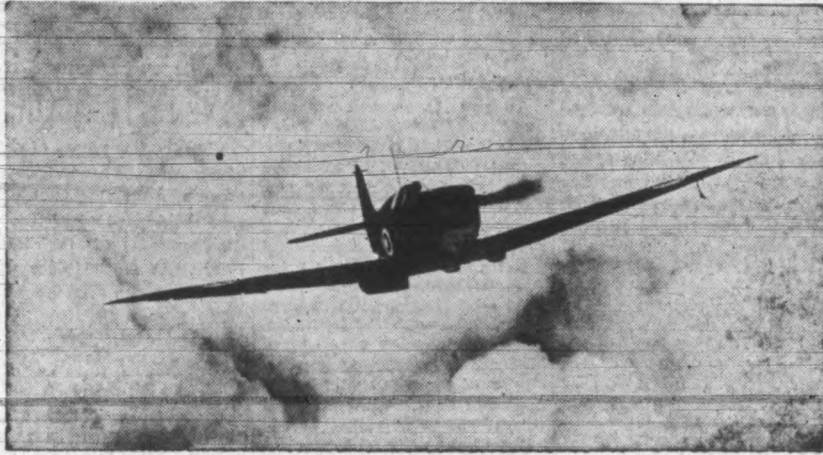

Pilots and observers of an R.C.A.F. bomber squadron overseas study their "target for tonight" under the guidance of the Wing Commander at the extreme left. Soon they will take off once more to pound the Hun. The big, long-range bombers strike far into Germany while swift "Hurricane-bombers" hit at occupied France.

Ground crews play a vital role. Here, two corporals give this Hurricane its final tune-up before a raid. Proclaimed a "Fighting guns," Corp. H. Robertson, Verdun, Que., checks the oil gauge as Corp. L. Lang, Toronto, assures engine performance.

Astride the nose of a "Hurricane-bomber"—a Hurricane fighter equipped for low level bombing—Corporal T. Ryland of Winnipeg, adjusts the propeller pitch.

Above the clouds the vigilant Spitfire maintains constant watch over his flock of "Hurricane-bombers," protecting them from the marauding Messerschmitts as they streak a few feet above the English Channel to blast targets in occupied France.

Sgt. L. C. Bray, D.F.M., Bronte, Ont., pilots a huge Wellington bomber. He and his co-pilot won the D.F.M. when they brought their flaming aircraft safely home.

"Bundle of grief" being prepared for the Nazis. These two armors have fused this bomb and are securing the tail fin in its proper position. Then they will load the sensitive "egg" under the wing of the vicious "Hurricane-bomber" behind.

Ready to take off, a Canadian airman climbs into the cockpit of his "Hurricane-bomber." Under the protection of Spitfires these aircraft sweep in at low level to drop their bomb loads, then revert, with guns blazing, to their role as fighter craft.

As this big Wellington bomber reaches its target area Flt.-Sgt. George Fowler of Victoria, N.B., inserts a flare into the flare chute so that the observer up in the nose of the aircraft may set his sights and send the heavy load of destruction hurtling true into the heart of a German factory, dockyard or other target.

All down but one. This group of "Hurricane-bomber" pilots anxiously throb from the aircraft and the last man swept in to a landing. Then there was a distant Afterwards there went to headquarters the welcome report: "None of our aircraft is missing." (Official R.C.A.F. photos.)

By PETE SALLAWAY

WHEN Victoria Bapcos dropped that 3 to 1 decision to Nanaimo Clippers Friday night and closed out their hockey campaign for the season, as far as playoffs are concerned, it wrote finish to a great opening campaign in this town. Bapcos have certainly enjoyed a bang-up first season's play in the new Pacific Coast circuit.

Throughout their 14-game home stand and the playoffs against Nanaimo the Bapcos received sterling support from the sports public. Every appearance was marked by good houses and the attendance figures were far above the average forecast by club officials before the start of the schedule. Victorians really went for their hockey and the club is certain of good support next season, providing hockey survives war curtailment.

Bapcos are already making plans for next season. We understand Manager Ivan Temple has strings out for a first class defence man at present in eastern Canada. Attempts were made to sign him up this season but failed through his having made previous commitments. However this player has since signified his desire to come to Victoria, and it is possible he will make his appearance shortly.

It is also planned to have a first class coach for the team next season. If necessary a suitable man will be imported to take over the job. A well-known coach will visit the city within a few weeks and efforts will be made at that time to interest him in coming out here next fall to handle the Victoria team.

Present plans of the Victoria players call for the majority of them to remain here all summer. All of them are employed and they seem to have decided to settle down. As a matter of fact most of them have already stated

Week-end Soccer

V.M.D., Services Win

After trying all season V.M.D. finally defeated Victoria West, knocking them over, 4 to 2, Sunday afternoon in Phoenix Cup soccer play. In the other Phoenix Cup match United Services eked out a 3 to 2 win over Esquimalt, but the fans are still wondering how they did it.

At Bullen Park Wests and the shipyard men played one of the best games of the season, with play even in the first half and V.M.D. holding a slight edge in the final canto. There was no score at half time.

Feature of the game was V.M.D. centre-forward Trevor Harvey's hat trick. He scored three goals in succession for the shipyard, all on individual efforts. His first came 10 minutes after the start of the half. At the 15-minute mark McBride evened for the Wests and only a couple of minutes later put them out in front. However, Harvey came back with two quick ones and passed to Reside on left wing for the last goal of the game.

At Athletic Park United Services won, 3 to 2, but the way Esquimalt swarmed over them in the final 20 minutes of play made spectators wonder if it were possible. The dockers had completely control of the game as the second session went into the last half, but missed open goals with wild kicking time and again.

United Services took the lead early in the first half and were leading 2 to 1 at half time.

North Shore United came to the city Saturday afternoon, wanting only a tie to clinch their hold on top place of the Pacific Coast Football League. They got it, a scoreless draw.

There wasn't much combination on the part of either team and the football was of the kick and rush variety. Both squads had scoring chances but missed on wild kicking.

Outstanding on the Victoria United crew was half-back Nip Sage, who turned in one of the best games of the season. The veteran half-back was all over the field breaking up North Shore efforts.

Outside-left Don McLeod was the biggest threat on the Vancouver squad and got some of the best shots of the day on goal. Jimmy Spencer, their big spark, stayed at home as did three or four others. It might have been a different story had they been on hand.

The collegians started in the first quarter, quarterback Reg. Clarkson piling three yards through the line for a touchdown. Fred Ranson converted and score was 6 to 0.

In the second quarter Ranson scored on a field-goal from the 20-yard line to make the half-time score 9 to 0.

In the third quarter, in the first play from scrimmage, Ray Mitchell gathered in the ball and galloped 75 yards for a touchdown. Ranson's kick was good.

The final quarter saw two more touchdowns, both on passes from Reg. Clarkson to Harry Lord. Ranson converted both.

Collegians Swamp Vic High, 27 to 0

St. Louis College swamped Victoria High 27 to 0 in an inter-scholastic Canadian Football League game, Sunday afternoon, at Central Park. The win puts the college boys on par with Oak Bay High, and leaves Victoria High in the cellar.

B.C. Playoff Opens Friday

Basketball series that Victoria fans always look forward to will get started here Friday night when Dominos open the British Columbia championship final against the Vancouver winners. Second game of the best-of-five series will be played at the Sports Centre Saturday evening.

Dominos will go up against the winner of the Tooles-Shores playoff on the mainland. Tooles at present lead the best-of-five final two games to one.

Victoria club held its final workout Saturday night at the Sports Centre, defeating West Road 69 to 43. Dominos and West Road were scheduled to play teams from Bremerton, but the visitors missed boat connections and were unable to keep their engagements.

In a second game, Douglas Tire defeated Sooke 34 to 31, but dropped their lower island inter-mediate A boys' total-point playoff by nine points. Sooke won the first game by 12 points.

Laurel Harney's Mother Passes

EDMONTON (CP)—Mrs. Adelia Harney, 66, mother of Laurel Harney, goaltender for Victoria Bapcos of the Pacific Coast Hockey League, died in hospital here Sunday following a stroke Friday night.

Mrs. Harney was an oldtime resident of Alberta, coming to Edmonton with her husband from Lougheed, Alta.

Laurel arrived in Edmonton at noon Saturday after an airplane flight from Nanaimo, where he was playing hockey when he received a telephone call from this city advising him of his mother's illness. He was forced to quit play in the game—the final between Victoria and Nanaimo for the coast championship—at the end of the second game in order to get home.

He chartered a tug which rushed him to Vancouver, where he was able to catch the east-bound Trans-Canada Airlines plane. Harney played hockey with Turner Valley in the Alberta Senior League last year and before that was with Olds and Drumheller.

Three Rangers Hold Scoring Positions

Bryan Hextall retained his hold on top spot in the National Hockey League individual scoring standing when he picked up two assists on the week-end to raise his count to 53 points to 22 goals and 31 assists.

Both his New York Ranger linemates, however, collected three points to move a point closer to Hextall.

Leaders follow:

	G.	A.	Pts.
Hextall, Rangers	22	31	53
Patrick, Rangers	30	21	51
Watson, Rangers	15	36	51
Grosso, Detroit	20	26	46
Thoms, Chicago	15	30	45
Abel, Detroit	16	27	43
Blake, Canadiens	17	25	42

down. Fred Ranson converted and score was 6 to 0.

In the second quarter Ranson scored on a field-goal from the 20-yard line to make the half-time score 9 to 0.

In the third quarter, in the first play from scrimmage, Ray Mitchell gathered in the ball and galloped 75 yards for a touchdown. Ranson's kick was good.

The final quarter saw two more touchdowns, both on passes from Reg. Clarkson to Harry Lord. Ranson converted both.

Smart Swim Gala

Speedy natators of the Seattle Central Y.M.C.A. left the Crystal Garden pool Saturday night with colors flying after defeating the local "Y" swim club by a point score of 42½ to 19½. It was the first time that the Seattle team had been invited to compete in this city, and they made sure that their first appearance would be a feature. And it was.

From the start of the program to the last lap, action was the keyword, with both local and outside swimmers presenting one of the greatest shows Victoria has seen.

The Seattleites started on their road to victory with the winning of the first event, a freestyle relay.

The surprise element was introduced with the appearance of Gordy Lawrence, member of the local squad, and holder of the mile freestyle championship of B.C. He had returned from convoy duty in the Atlantic.

FAST SWIMMING

In the 50-yard freestyle event it took Bob Trager, Seattle, but little over 25 seconds to churn the foam to take the lead. His teammate, Millek, came in second. Bringing in the first point for the home team, Hugh Reston docked third. Trager is holder of championships in Washington, Oregon and Idaho.

Gordon Sherwood, smooth-backstroke artist from "across the line" displayed some mighty fine swimming when he took first place in the 100-yard backstroke dash. Thomas of the same club came in for an easy second place, followed by Bob Smirl of the local squad. Seattle's win in this event brought the score board to 26 to 2 for them.

Lawrence showed the crowd of fans that his time away from the swim world has not made much difference to his style when he took first in the 200-yard freestyle number.

TODD STARS

Number 13 on the list proved to be far from lucky for the southerners. It was a 100-yard breaststroke dash and Jack Todd, Victoria's ace star in that field, wiped out any suggestion of competition with his flashy "butterfly" stroke. Swimming against him for the opposing team was Bud Hill. Jack took the lead from the start and kept it that way to the final lap.

The test of swimming endurance came in the 400-yard freestyle event. It was by far the most exciting and competitive number of the program. Lawrence and Bob Johnstone, both Victorians, with Bud Hill and McLung of Seattle, were swimming. Three quarters of the distance found the three sticking close together, each testing the other. In the sixth of eight laps, Hill broke loose and cleared away from the locals and kept a steady lead till the end. Lawrence came in a good eight feet behind. McLung was third.

FINE DIVING

To give the swimmers a rest, and the spectators a thrill, Teddy Rau, Victoria's only diver, presented a display of tricky diving from both the board of the pool and a tower high in the steel girders. George Henderson, swimmer of Seattle club, staged a series of comedy acts from the 12-foot board. Non-competitive events by local swimmers were intermingled with the seven features.

It was announced at the conclusion of the gala that the next meet will be one with provincial championships at stake. It will be held in this city on March 28.

Results of the gala follow:

WEEK-END SCORES

Toronto 4, Rangers 2.
Rangers 2, Toronto 0.
Detroit 3, Boston 1.
Chicago 6, Americans 1.
Canadiens 4, Boston 3.

The shadow of things to come may have fallen across the National Hockey League during the week-end from the impressive showings of Detroit Red Wings and Chicago Black Hawks.

While the leading clubs, Toronto and Rangers, split two games, Wings outclassed Boston Bruins 3 to 1 and Chicago swamped Brooklyn Americans 6 to 1. Almost any hockey manager would rather take a hot fifth-place club into the Stanley Cup playoffs than a staggering first-place club, and for that reason any tendencies toward unusual power by Detroit or Chicago may be significant.

Toronto stopped Rangers 4 to 2 in Toronto Saturday night and was beaten 2 to 0 in New York Sunday night as Rangers' rookie goalie, Jim Henry, scored his first professional hockey shutout. In the week-end's other game, Montreal Canadiens defeated Boston 4 to 3 in overtime to move in front of Americans in the battle for the league's sixth and last playoff spot.

Lynn Patrick scored both New York goals against Leafs Saturday night, while Hank Goldup, Billy Taylor, Johnny McCredy and Bob Goldham tallied for Toronto. Sunday night Patrick got another to give him 30 for 46 games Rangers have played so far this season. It was the first season of the last six a National Hockey League player had scored 30 goals. In 1934-35, Charlie Conacher, then with Toronto, scored 36. Phil Watson scored Rangers' other goal Sunday night.

FIFTH STRAIGHT

Detroit's victory over Bruins in Detroit Sunday night was the fifth straight home-ice victory for the Wings, who have been beaten only once in their last eight starts. Syd Howe, Carl Liscombe and Eddie Bush were Detroit scorers, with Herbie Cain scoring the Boston goal.

Brooklyn looked bad against Chicago, scoring its only goal after Hawks counted six in a Sunday night game at Chicago. Johnny Mariucci, Red Hamill, Alex Kaleta, George Allen and Bill Carst were Chicago scorers, with Mel Hill counting for the Bruins. Tommy Anderson set a new record for scoring by an N.H.L. defenceman when he assisted in Hill's goal, boosting his points for the season to 36. Eddie Shore was the former record holder, with 35. Bill Thoms' two assists set a record for Chicago scoring in one season at 45 points, cracking Paul Thompson's mark of 44.

With three games to play during the balance of the season, while Brooklyn has only two, Canadiens took a firm grip on the sixth playoff spot with their overtime victory over Boston in Montreal Saturday night. Joe Benoit scored the winner in the sixth minute of overtime on a play with his linemates, Toe Blake and Terry Reardon. Roy Conacher bagged two for Boston. Cain one. Benoit also had a first-period goal and Terry Reardon and Ray Gelliffe were other Montreal scorers.

$225,000 Suggested As Willows Price

A price of $225,000 was provisionally set on the Willows Exhibition grounds by the City Council today as it tabled for a week a move to offer the property for that amount to C. J. Lyon, Winnipeg, for a residential subdivision.

Any sales agreement would include provision to have the issue submitted to the public in a by-law, would protect the Willows Arena, for which a lease has been granted until 1952 and would cover other leases which contain sales clauses.

Under the scheme the Colwood Park Association, which holds a lease on the race track and equipment, would have the first right of refusal to purchase the property at the stipulated price and the consent of the provincial minister concerned would have to be secured for any sale.

On the suggestion of the parks committee construction of an automobile barricade at Beacon Hill at a cost of $127 was approved. The council sent to estimates committee a move to devote the $110 realized from sale of pea-fowl towards the cost of park swings, and approved removal of trees from boulevards in front of 110 Government Street, 352 Vancouver Street and 1124 Dallas Road. Oak Bay was asked to contribute its usual share to maintenance of Gonzales Bay and a report from the parks group asking the council to assume full responsibility for accidents in Beacon Hill, owing to its refusal to endorse the committee's forestry policy, was referred to the estimates committee and the city solicitor.

Demolition of the structure at 641 Oswego Street was ordered on the health committee's suggestion.

Alderman B. J. Gadsden's resignation from the civic committee appointed to assist in entertainment of visiting seamen was accepted. The committee reported on entertainment provided the sailors over the week-end and outlined plans for a smoker tonight.

The fire wardens were asked to deal with a letter from Norman Yarrow explaining action taken by Yarrow's Ltd. to secure contributions from underwriters towards paying the city for attendance of fire-fighting equipment at the plant's fire Dec. 24.

If the company is able to secure buses, the B.C. Electric will consider a supplementary transportation system to serve the Dallas Road area, the concern informed the council in writing.

Permits were granted for two gasoline tank installations.

City Stands Pat On Housing Terms

The City Council today refused permission to Wartime Housing Ltd. to proceed any further with work on James Bay lots tentatively selected as sites for V.M.D. workers' homes until the firm has met city terms.

That was one development at the special council session this morning.

Others included: A petition from 56 residents of James Bay protesting any homes there unless they were of a permanent nature meeting usual requirements of the city building inspector's department.

A suggestion from Alderman T. W. Hawkins, lands committee chairman, supported by the council, that if Wartime Housing Ltd. does not meet city terms, the firm will have to use lots selected by the council in another, undeveloped part of the city.

Provision was made for an emergency meeting of the council to accelerate negotiations as soon as word was received from the company assuring the interior plastering of at least 50 per cent of the buildings and stuccoing of at least one in five of all houses located in groups.

Mayor Andrew McGavin and Alderman W. L. Morgan voted to insist on 100 per cent interior plastering but failed to secure support.

NO UPKEEP UNDERTAKING

During the meeting, Alderman Hawkins reported H. S. Hamill, V.M.D. head, had denied making an undertaking by which the company would care for the upkeep of the houses and lots.

"We thought they were going ahead a little too quickly," Alderman Hawkins said as the council approved his committee's order calling for a halt in clearing on the James Bay property.

"Not only that," he added, "but we understood the company had brought in an outside firm to do the work without considering local men."

Bennett & White, Vancouver contractors, had a "toehold" on the project, he said.

The alderman said the city had reserved 100 lots in the James Bay area as possible sites for houses. They were in the majority of cases, provided with street, sidewalk, sewer and water services. Costs of these services would pay many times over for plastering and stuccoing the buildings, he added.

The city was not out of line in asking for the same gross expenditure on houses in Victoria that had been paid for those in Esquimalt and North Vancouver, he said, adding:

ALTERNATIVE SITES

"If they don't meet our terms the city should pick out another 100 lots in the north end and let them put in their own services and do their own development."

Full agreement was expressed by Alderman Ed Williams. "If they won't step up to the tone of their houses, we should pick out another section or sections," he said, adding he did not see why the houses should be grouped.

If the government wished to step in over the council's head and expropriate, that action would be all right with him, he said. The government, he noted, was spending freely on other buildings outside Victoria and should be willing to support the city in a housing scheme which would not depreciate the value of homes in the James Bay area; he said.

A letter from Crease, Davey & Co., representing Wartime Housing Ltd., said clearing was being done to assist F. G. Aldous in surveying the region prior to any construction. Tenders would be called for the building contracts, the communication said.

The clearing operations were not, it continued, prejudicial to the city, and for that reason permission to continue was sought.

On a motion by Alderman Hawkins the council refused the application.

"We don't know whether or not they're going to build there at all," Alderman Hawkins said.

"They're putting the cart before the horse," Alderman Williams remarked, reminding the council the structures were not temporary but permanent houses which would not be demolished when the war is over.

H. W. Davey addressed the council, asking permission to continue, saying no harm could be done in clearing and that time could be saved if it continued.

Wartime Housing Ltd. had caused delay, Alderman Hawkins and Alderman Williams argued. The firm had had plenty of time to present an agreement suitable to the council, they said.

Referring to the interior plaster question, Alderman Williams reported that finish had been protested by the company because

Primate Stresses Need for Unity

"The danger that comes from bickering in the face of danger, the danger with which Canada is now faced, alarms me more than any one thing," stated Archbishop Derwyn T. Owen, Primate of the Church of England in Canada, when he spoke to the Canadian Club luncheon, Monday noon.

He said Canada should have no other form of government than one that could be criticized but in this time of crisis Canadians should close up their ranks and forget their bickering.

LURE OF DISTANCE

Archbishop Owen spoke on Canada, of which he said there was no better country in the world.

"There is a lure of distant countries, but no fields are as green as those of Canada," he remarked.

He said Canada had been built by the pioneers and their story was one of the great stories of Canada, a story built on sacrifice.

"Anything that really stands is built on sacrifice," the speaker said. "We are in for it now, we are taking off our coats and doing what our forefathers did."

SECTIONALISM DANGER

Sectionalism, he said, was one of Canada's great problems and people were too prone to think only of the little pocket in which they lived.

"We need more real knowledge of Canada," the Canadian Primate said, "we should think of it as a whole. There is no greater bond than difficulty and suffering through which we are passing at the present time. It will help to save us from sectional influence."

Sectionalism, he added, might lead to apathy in face of danger or to the exact opposite, panic.

He spoke briefly on religion and said:

"Let us be loyal to our religion and try the better to understand it. I plead that we will use our powers of intellect really to understand it and to hold fast to those things that have been proven true, right and strong."

Most Rev. Derwyn T. Owen, D.D., Archbishop of Toronto and Primate of All Canada, preached at Christ Church Cathedral, Sunday morning, and St. Mary's Church, Oak Bay, Sunday evening, stressing the need for more unity in Canada. In the afternoon he spoke to the Anglican clergy of Victoria in the Bishop's Chapel.

Archbishop Owen stressed the importance of Canadians thinking in terms of the whole Dominion. He pointed out the tendency of each province to think of itself as a self-contained unit and said it was his privilege and duty as primate to seek to bring about a Dominion-wide view.

At the services he showed a souvenir from the shattered Coventry Cathedral, two rusty nails shaped into a cross to show how loss and sacrifice might be associated with the message of the gospel.

Archbishop Owen, who left on this afternoon's boat for Vancouver, stayed at Government House during his visit here. On Saturday he said that a large number of servicemen welcomed the ministrations of the church. He pointed out that various congregations were doing much to make servicemen in strange places feel at home.

He said the war had brought about a deepening interest in life's ultimate questions with more people than ever before asking themselves "what is the meaning of life and God?"

The Canadian Primate stated that the Anglican Church of Canada rose to its missionary responsibilities to a greater extent in 1941 than in any previous year.

The orchestra of the R.C.A.F. will play for the dance in McMoran's Pavilion, March 20, sponsored by the Cordova Bay Red Cross Unit, and not the R.A.F. orchestra as previously stated.

Keith E. Marcotte, 16-year-old son of E. H. Marcotte, Albert Head, Saturday shot a cougar weighing 142 pounds and over six feet in length. Marcotte's dog treed the cougar Friday morning and remained on guard until Saturday morning when young Marcotte shot the cougar.

Its use was contrary to the firm's policy.

"It wasn't policy. It was politics," the alderman added.

The four officers issuing the books said for the most part the applications were in order and the books were issued with no delay.

Make your house a home

A HOUSE becomes a home by the activities of the people who live there. Taking the long view of things, in the home even where the children are very young, it should be a first objective to own a piano. Because, if pianoforte music is an everyday part of the children's lives, then they will also learn to play. They will play. And as young men and women they will make the home a place of gaiety, laughter and songs. Fletcher Bros. has been suppliers of pianos to three generations of Victorians. Today, as exclusive representatives of such world-famous makes as Steinway & Sons, Heintzman, Nordheimer, Lesage, etc., the choice offers models, prices and terms to suit every family budget.

Island Far Over Loan Objective

With Saanich turning in an additional $40,000 subscription today, Vancouver Island's Victory Loan sales passed the $10,209,650 mark, headquarters officials reported here. The quota for the division was $9,850,000.

With the exception of Oak Bay, which finished $294,800 short of its $1,410,000 quota, all eight units in the division went over the top. Pending a complete check on statements submitted from the various units, no figures were listed including today's late receipts.

Up to the close Saturday night, when the campaign officially ended, the sales by units, with original objectives in brackets, follow:

Victoria city $5,023,250 ($4,850,000); Oak Bay $1,115,200 ($1,410,000); Esquimalt $631,200 ($595,000); Saanich Gulf Islands $940,400 ($940,000); Nanaimo $628,900 ($570,000); Alberni and West Coast, $560,050 ($415,000); Cowichan $787,650 ($700,000); Courtenay $423,000 ($370,000).

62 Unemployed Apply for Insurance

Since the first cheque was issued three weeks ago, 22 people have completed forms, and 40 more have applied for benefits at the local office of the Unemployment Insurance Bureau, C. A. Mudge, manager of the bureau, announced today.

He said that almost all these, however, had found employment, or the employment bureau had placed them in jobs.

Mr. Mudge said the bureau could put any man, physically capable, to work on laboring jobs at present, and also any women as domestic workers.

He said there was still a definite shortage of skilled labor, especially iron workers and machinists for the shipyards. The employment bureau has managed to obtain a few skilled riveting gangs from outside points.

The influx of labor from the prairies is now very slow, and there is a definite shortage of farm help, with practically no applications for this type of work.

Burns' Club

HOW TO RELIEVE

PILE TORTURE

QUICKLY AND EASILY

If you are troubled with itching piles or rectal soreness, do not delay—immediately run the risk of letting this condition become chronic. Any itching or soreness or painful passage of stool is nature's warning and proper treatment should be secured at once.

For this purpose get a package of Remedy from Modern Pharmacy of Cumberland Drug Stores, or any drugstore, and use as directed. This formula which is used internally is a small, easy to take tablet, will quickly relieve the itching and sore-ness and aid in healing the sore, tender spot. Rem-Remedy is pleasant to use, is highly recommended and it seems the height of folly for any one to risk a painful and chronic pile condition when such a fine remedy may be had at such a small cost.

If you try Rem-Remedy and are not entirely pleased with the results, your drugist will gladly return your money.

'SMILIN' THROUGH'
ON ATLAS BILL

It was "A Great Day for the Irish" during the filming of "Smilin' Through," playing at the Atlas Theatre. Jeanette MacDonald and Gene Raymond both have a bit of Irish in them and Brian Aherne is a true son of Erin.

So is Patrick O'Moore, but a year-and-a-half from the Old Country. In fact, Castle Clare, where most of the action in the film takes place, is the ancestral home of the O'Moores. Pat also holds the title of "Lord of the Deep," as master of old Castle
Deep near Dublin.

Boulogne Bombed

LONDON (CP)—British bombers continued their daylight offensive over northern France today. Heavy anti-aircraft fire was heard from across the Channel at a southeastern coastal town in England.

Soon after the gunfire, R.A.F. planes came speeding back from the direction of Boulogne-sur-Mer.

Timely New Drama

Coming to Dominion

"Dangerously They Live," starring John Garfield, Nancy Coleman and Raymond Massey in a story that lives up to its exciting title will be shown tomorrow at the Dominion Theatre. The thrill-packed film tells about the extraordinary adventures of a pair who defy danger to track down secret enemies. Besides the three starring players the cast includes such notables as Moroni Olsen,
Lee Patrick, Esther Dale, Ben
Weiden and many others.

Garfield and Miss Coleman play the young pair, Raymond Massey and Moroni Olsen, the leaders of the spy ring. Robert Florey directed the production, from the screenplay by Marion Parsonnet.

GEORGE FORMBY

IN YORK FILM

Much of George Formby's popularity is founded on his inimitable rendition of special song numbers, accompanied by nimble fingering on his ukelele. George's skill in playing this instrument is widely known, but it is interesting to learn that his practice breaks. During the long and sometimes tedious waits between shots George can always be found in the rehearsal room at the A.T.P. Studios going over new numbers with his accompanist.

In his latest film, "Keep Your Seats Please," currently at the York Theatre, the famous Lancashire comedian sings three numbers in his brightest style.

Latest 'Hardy' Film

Is Now Showing Here

Andy Hardy faces the most important decision of his life in "Life Begins for Andy Hardy," one of the most forceful of the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Hardy Family series, which is currently at the Oak Bay Theatre.

This latest adventure finds Andy having to choose between college and work. He decides to go to New York and work for a month, before making a final decision. What happens when he breaks away from the ties of his family and its protective surroundings makes for one of the most important of his films.

Judy Garland makes her third guest appearance with the Hardy Family in the picture, which features Lewis Stone, Fay Holden, Sara Haden and Miss Rutherford.

'RADIO CITY

REVELS' AT RIO

The party spirit prevails with a will in "Radio City Revels," which is now at the Rio Theatre, when most of the company join in "Swingin' in the Corn," a tune that promises to catch with all the popularity of "Louisiana Hay-ride."

Augmented by an RKO Radio dancing and singing chorus of 60 persons and the famous Lindy Hoppers, a colored group of eccentric dancers, Buster West and Melissa Mason offer one of their amusing dance routines.

The "corn" number is one of the most ambitious in the picture, starring Bob Burns, Jack Oakie, Kenny Baker and Ann Miller.

Frogs in Brazil Guard Young With Mud Walls

Masons are important helpers in the building of a house or other structure. They set stones or pour cement for the foundation of a house or other building. Often they make high walls with stones or bricks.

In the animal world we have some interesting animals which have the popular name of "mason frogs." They live in Brazil.

Mason frogs spend much of their time in trees. Since they can climb trees and obtain most of their food by catching insects which fly about the branches, they are classed among the many kinds of tree frogs.

The tree frogs of Brazil, however, have a very special way of getting ready to take care of their young. They are not like the common frogs which lay thousands of eggs but pay little attention to what happens to them later.

Mason frogs—that is, the females—work hard to prepare a good nest for the young. In marshes and ponds, they go under the water to scoop up mud with their forelegs or "arms." The little loads of mud are placed side by side so as to form a circle.

After labor lasting a day or two, the frogs sees that her wall has grown high enough to be at the surface of the water. Still she is not content. Keeping on with the scooping, she rears the wall above the level of the water.

The result of that work may remind a person of the crater of a volcano. It is about a foot across. Inside the "crater," eggs are laid and in due time the polliwogs are hatched.

The purpose of the mud-wall nest is to guard the young. Enemies, such as fish in a pond, cannot so easily reach and destroy the polliwogs.

Male mason frogs don't help in doing the work, but they seem to keep an eye on the tadpoles as they swim about in the water inside the crater.

After the tadpoles turn into frogs, they climb or hop out of their first home. Then they go to live amid the trees.

9 Japs Arrested

PORT TOWNSEND, Wash. (AP)—Nine Japanese laborers were arrested by army sentries Sunday following an explosion and fire which destroyed a speeder, a tool shed and two old coaches on the Port Townsend southern railroad near here Saturday night.

The Japanese, all members of a section crew, were brought by army men to the Jefferson county jail here and later removed to Seattle in custody of immigration service officers.

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR MISS DIX—I am a young man in the army, terribly in love with a girl back home and she is also in love with me, and we plan to get married as soon as the opportune time comes. I am of a very nervous type and the least little thing that goes wrong causes me to worry. Now what is making me unhappy is the fact that my hair seems to be falling out, and I do not like to think of the girl who I marry having to live with a bald-headed man. Should I tell the girl about it? Is there any way that I can stop my hair from falling out?

Answer—Millions of men spend millions of dollars every year for hair tonics, but judging from the number of bald heads you see, none of them work.

Don't worry about losing your girl because you are losing your hair. Women don't put the stress on hair that men do. No man would fall in love with a bald-headed woman, but whether a man has ambrosial curls or just one skimpy lock to comb over his bald spot cuts no figure in a woman's affections.

DOROTHY DIX.

Stakes Winner Real Pet Horse

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—One of the most dramatic stories in thoroughbred history reached its story-book climax Saturday when Mrs. Payne Whitney's The Rhymer, the "blood transfusion horse," came up with his closing strides to win the Widener Handicap, richest race of the winter season.

Nobody had given The Rhymer a look-in on the first prize of $53,950 in the Hialeah Park race. He wasn't considered in the same class with the group of stake horses running with him—Market Wise, Midland, Challedon, Attention, Alsab and the others.

But when the field of 17 had completed the mile and a quarter route of the Widener, it was Mrs. Whitney's pet out in front of Col. E. R. Bradley's Best Seller, the second horse, and the star runners were nowhere: Market Wise, the favorite, never was in the race.

The Rhymer was bred by Mrs. Whitney's Greentree Stables and horsemen say that when he became a seriously sick two-year-old she insisted he be given a blood transfusion, a thing unheard of at that time.

The Rhymer paid $32.80 for $2, and Best Seller returned $53.20 for the place. Olympus was third, paying $12.

Market Wise wound up eighth.

Grapefruit Loop

NEW YORK (AP)—The Cleveland Indians, starting life anew with Lou Boudreau filling the shoes vacated by Roger Peckin-paugh and half-a-dozen pitchers trying to fill those left by Bobby

Feller—are off on the right foot in baseball's grapefruit circuit, preview of the 1942 campaign.

The Indians opened their spring training series Sunday by downing the Cincinnati Reds 5 to 3 at Tampa, Fla., although they were outrun 9 to 6 by the National League club which also was making its exhibition debut.

That victory, coupled with the

New York Yankees' first spring loss, put the Tribe at the top of the grapefruit standings, the only team in action that hasn't suffered defeat.

At Havana, Brooklyn Dodgers

opened the grapefruit season by taking a two-game series with the New York Giants. Then the National League champions got mixed up with a team of Cuban all-stars and wound up on the short end of a five-game series.

The all-stars won the rubber game Sunday with a 3 to 0 shutout in the nightcap of a doubleheader after the Dodgers had squared the series by winning the opener 6 to 3.

The Philadelphia Athletics,

training in California, have faced

Pacific Coast League teams in a half dozen games and boast nothing better than a 500 percentage. After winning two from Seattle and one from Hollywood, the A's dropped one to Los Angeles and two to San Diego, the last one Sunday, 5 to 4.

New York's world champion

Yankees, with six regulars still listed holdouts, won two in a row from the St. Louis Cardinals, but the Cards turned the tables at St. Petersburg Sunday 4 to 2, as three St. Louis pitchers gave up just that many hits.

QUILTY IN R.C.A.F.

MONTREAL (CP)—Johnny

Quitty, Canadiens' youthful centremen from Ottawa, Saturday enlisted in the Royal Canadian Air Force for air crew. He was immediately granted extended leave to the end of the National Hockey League season. Then he will report for training.

Calgary Hands Trail Setback

CALGARY (CP)—Softening up their opponents by handing out some robust body checks, Calgary Stampede took full command with a rousing third period that netted six straight goals in defeating Trail Smoke Eaters 8 to 3 in the first of the best-of-five game A.B.C. League semifinal playoff series at the Arena Saturday night.

LETHBRIDGE WINS

LETHBRIDGE, Alta. (CP)—Held to a 2 to 2 deadlock in the opening game of their semifinal series with Kimberley Dynamos last Thursday, Lethbridge Maple Leafs Saturday night turned on early power to defeat the B.C. sextette 4 to 2 and gain the lead in the best-of-five A.B.C. Senior Amateur Hockey League playoffs.

Three goals in little more than

"No! No! I called for a volunteer sharpshooter!"

Five minutes of the first period gave Leafs their victory, Kimberley getting one back in the second and another in the third before the locals added another goal late in the closing period.

PLAY TIE

SASKATOON (CP)—Moose Jaw Millers and Saskatoon Quakers, finalists for the Saskatchewan Senior Hockey title, battled to a 4 to 4 overtime tie here Saturday night in the first game of a best-of-five series. The second game will be in Moose Jaw Tuesday night.

GORGE VALE GOLF

In the men's par competition at the Gorge Vale Golf Club Sunday A. Hurst was the winner finishing 5 up. W. Rowe was runner-up with a score of 2 down.

Lemon 'perks up' Vegetables!

IT BRINGS OUT THE FLAVOUR

Lemon puts vegetables in the second helping class. Asparagus, artichokes, broccoli, cabbage, carrots, beets and greens take on fresh new flavours. A gay lemon garnish makes them look more appetizing, too.

And lemons add nutritional benefits. Help restore Vitamin C lost in cooking, for one ounce of juice daily is an excellent source of this vitamin. Have them every day!

NOW Let's put the dollars TO WORK!

We can't win the war without money, but money can't win the war!

Not unless we put it to work! Not unless we turn dollars into planes and tanks and guns and munitions — by the skill of our hands and the sweat of our brow.

So, now let's put the dollars to work! Let's make the enemy feel the sting of good Canadian coin, backed by Canadian zeal and Canadian workmanship.

So far, the war hasn't brought us hardship or even discomfort. We haven't seen our cities blasted, our homes wrecked, our children machine-gunned in the streets.

Surely we can give our work, our concentrated effort, without thought of personal gain or profit. So long as we get three meals a day and a place to sleep, we are in luxury, compared to the condition of thousands in war-torn lands.

Let's make every day's work an all-out drive towards victory. Let's work to win — to stave off bitter defeat.

DEMOCRACY Has Been GUILTY of Acute Negligence, Apathy, Low-gear Patriotism, Flat-tire Performance of Duty

We Here Have Been as Guilty as Those Countries Who Have Already PAID THE PRICE

We Still Have a New Leaf Left—What Will We Write on It?

GUNS Instead of Golf
RAGS Instead of Ragtime
RUBBER Instead of Recreation
PAPER Instead of Parties
STEEL Instead of Sailing
SALVAGE Instead of Society
DUTY Instead of Death
